HISTORIC NANKING RED WITH BLOOD

Ancient Chinese City is the Shambles of the Manchu Butcher.

REBELS OUT OF AMMUNITION

Chinese Fleeing to Rear of Reform Forces, Leaving Everything Behind—Men, Women and Children Massacred.

Nanking, Nov. 10.—Nanking tonight is desolate. Fully a thousand of its inhabitants lie massacred and numerous business houses and dwellings have been looted and burned. Seventy thousand persons already have fled the city and still others are joining the exodus. Along the railway leading from the city a long, snake-like line of humanity is trudging, seeking safety.

It was the hand of the Manchus that brought the devastation. While the republicans were in camp three miles away, awaiting ammunition and reinforcements, the Manchus began the work of carnage. Men, women and children were slaughtered. Neither youth nor age was taken into account. White, the emblem of the revolution, marked its wearers for instant death. Chinamen with white shoes, a sign of mourning among them, or even a handkerchief were ruthlessly slain. Queless heads were everwhere to be seen.

There was little fighting today between the revolutionists and the troops. A desperate battle is expected shortly.

Nanking, China, Nov. 10.—Historic Nanking this evening is the shambles of the Manchu butcher. The sun set upon a scene of fire, rapid desolation and butchery unrecorded in modern history.

Tonight 12,000 Manchu and Imperial old style soldiers held Purple Hill, where they are entrenched, while from beneath their stronghold they are driving before them hordes of Chinese out of the city.

Innocent Chinese, leaving everything behind them, are fleeing, terror-stricken and destitute, to shelter in the fields at the rear of the reform forces. The latter, numbering between 20,000 and 30,000, are impotent to check the slaughter or avenge the stain because of their lack of ammunition. The revolutionists had delayed a second concerted attack upon the Manchus pending the arrival of ammunition expected from Shanghai. The Manchus took advantage of the situation.

During last night the republicans made a demonstration, but did little shooting and there were few fatalities. The main body of the reformers remained in camp three miles distant from the city awaiting the arrival of ammunition, which is coming in boats from the river and brought across the country on pack horses. Reinforcements are also coming from every direction. They are raw and ragged recruits but determined and the final battle promises to be desperately fought.

The foreigners are being treated with the utmost consideration. When the gates were opened this morning the people thronged toward the country, each carrying his belongings and driven by the imperialists.

Soon afterwards the carnage began. Since the night of November 8th, when the first attack was made by the revolutionists, the Tartar general has endeavored to terrorize the inhabitants by wholesale executions. Those whose queues had been cut off were beheaded by the dozen, but today when the order for the general slaughter was given, the whole native city was invaded by the Manchu sholdiers who ruthlessly massacred men, women and children. The aged, the young and babes in arms were shown no mercy.

Thousands of Chinese poured from the gates until at noon today it was estimated that fully 70,000 persons had escaped. Before nightfall 20,000 more, representing every class, the merchants, the gentry, and coolies, had gotten away. Meanwhile the Manchus scoured the narrows before the city and the houses of wealthy merchants were sacked. Any queueless victim was beheaded immediately.

The correspondent of the Associated Press saw several women executed and their children stabbed and trampled under foot.

The order appeared to be that any one wearing anything white which suggested the white badge, worn by the reformers, must be killed forthwith. A white pocket handkerchief marked the possessor for death. White shoes, which are worn by the Chinese as a sign of mourning, were the signal for the execution of the wearer.

The horror of the massacre cannot be described. An attempt tonight to estimate the number of innocent people and non-combatants slain would be futile.

The Chinese found wearing foreign clothing immediately fell a victim of his advanced taste, but foreigners were not molested. Their protests against the massacres, however, were disregarded and even laughed at. The correspondents of the Associated Press worked throughout the day within the outer walls of the city, eight miles from the telegraph station with which they communicated and

MONUMENT TO BE ERECTED

In Honor of Confederate Soldiers Who Fell at Battle of Shiloh—A Reception to the Daughters at Richmond.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 10.—In reporting for the committee on educational reform to the United Daughters of the Confederacy today, Miss Mary Poppenheim, of South Carolina, declared that high school graduates in the South are so deficient in Latin, mathematics and English that they experience difficulty in being admitted to class "A" colleges. This statement was brought out in view of the report to the association that 174 scholarships at various institutions are now open to young men and women of Confederate lineage.

There was much applause when Mrs. Alexander White, of Tennessee, director general of the Shiloh Association, announced that the movement to erect a monument to Confederate soldiers who fell at the battle of Shiloh, is rapidly approaching realization.

Designs for officially recognized Confederate plates and platters, bearing the photographs of Jefferson Davis, were presented, and there was long inspection and discussion. While the scheme is primarily to provide revenue, the Confederate idea will prevail throughout and each State will be permitted to offer its own design for one of the 13 pieces.

Friends of the various candidates who have been put forward for president-general were unusually active today, and the election tomorrow promises to be close and exciting.

Tonight a reception was tendered by the Richmond chapter to the delegates and officers of all Confederate organizations. A portrait of General Harry Heth was presented to Lee Camp Hall while record books and crosses of honor were presented to the Confederate museum.

By a vote of 169 to 219 the United Daughters of the Confederacy, at the conclusion of today's session, decided to hold the 1912 convention in Washington, D. C., instead of in St. Augustine, Fla., for which city the minority vote was cast. Mrs. Mary T. Merwin, of Washington, etxended the invitation from the capital city.

Many of the Daughters felt that they were obligated to Washington through a sort of tacit agreement reached in 1910, at the time when Richmond was chosen as the convention city for this year. From the beginning of the meeting, it seemed evident that sentiment favored the city on the Potomac, and the result showed an overwhelming preponderance of this feeling.

GARBAGE STRIKE.

Rioting Marked the Situation in New York Yesterday.

New York, Nov. 10. —Fierce rioting in which one man received injuries that caused his death, another was mortally hurt, secores of others injured and the police practically held at bay, marked the strike of drivers of ash and garbage carts here today. In half a dozen clashes between the police and strikers and their sympathizers the rioters only dispersed under threat of revolvers drawn by the police.

Night brought the first truct in the hostilities, when all the drivers were withdrawn and efforts to make collections were abandoned.

Owing to the violence practically no headway was made in the removal of ashes and garbage and conditions in the city, especially in the congested districts, are becoming serious. Unless relief is afforded soon it is predicted the board of health will be compelled to act.

Today's disorders were marked by the participation of many women sympathizers of the strikers.

The most serious rioting took place in Harlem. In an attack there upon strike-breakers, Robert Moeller, a driver, was struck on the head by a brick hurled from a roof and received injuries that caused his death. Henry Wilson, another strike-breaker, received what are believed to be mortal injuries when he was attacked by rioters.

The grietvance of the drivers is the single one that the city is compelling the collection of garbage at night. The strike was inaugurated to enforce the demand for a return to day collections. Mayor Gaynor has taken a strong stand against yielding to the men and refuses to recognize the walk-out as a strike.

SYNOD'S SESSIONS DRAWING TO CLOSE

Favorable Report on Overture That There be Ten Presbyteries in State.

UNION THEOLIGICAL SEMINARY

Report Highly Commended—Pastors at State Institutions—Rev. Mr. Black and Rev. Mr. Shields Re-elected.

(By Mamie Bays.)

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 10.—The most impressive service held during the Synod of North Carolina, at this meeting, was the communion service with which the session of this morning began. This service was conducted by Rev. H. G. Hill, D. D., of Maxton, the oldest pastor in the Synod, and Rev. H. Harding, of Davidson College, who was the first pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, where the sessions of Synod are being held.

Rev. A. A. McGeachy, host of the Synod, offered a resolution recommending the appointment of a committee of arrangements at the close of each annual meeting of Synod, one member to be the pastor of the church where the next session shall be held. This committee shall consist of five members, and arrange the entire programme of business for the next meeting of Synod, conforming with the standing rules. This resolution was adopted. As Synod will hold its session of next year in Raleigh, Rev. W. McWhite, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, of that city, will be a member of the committee for the coming year.

Many reports were read, and adopted this morning. The committee on bills and overtures reported favorably regarding the overtures from Fayetteville Presbytery that this Synod be divided into ten Presbyteries as nearly equal as possible instead of eight Presbyteries as at present.

A committee was appointed to make the division and to report to Synod next year.

The report of Union Theological Seminary was highly commended as were the addresses of Rev. Dr. W. W. Moore, and Rev. W. L. Lingle, of the faculty of the Seminary. Synod will take steps to take part in the centennial of the seminary next October.

The committee to provide pastors at State institutions of learning requested $400 additional for the salary of a pastor to be secured at Chapel Hill.

The Presbyterian Standard was commended highly, several members of Synod speaking of its merit and work. Rev. McG. Shields was re-elected superintendent of Synodical home missions. Rev. William Black was re-elected Synodical evangelist, and Rev. Geo. W. Bell was re-elected district evangelist.

This session of Synod is regarded as one of the most pleasant and one of the most profitable held in recent years.

The Synod completed its work late this afternoon and adjourned sine die. The most important action, perhaps, was the decision to divide the Synod into ten instead of eight Presbyteries. This step was rendered necessary by the great growth of the Church in the State. The Synod voted to meet jointly the third Tuesday in October, 1912, with the Synod of Virginia, in the celebration of the centennial of Union Seminary at Richmond.

TURKS DISPLAY COURAGE.

Supported by Artillery They Make Attack on Italians.

Tripoli, Nov. 10.—Strong forces of Turks and Arabs, supported by artillery, delivered a determined attack on the Italians today all along the line between Hamidieh and Boumeliana, but principally against the extreme left.

Beginning early this morning with a series of skirmishes, the fighting about noon took on the character of a general action. As usual, the Turks displayed desperate courage. but were unable to withstand the tremendous combined fire from the trenches, and the field artillery and guns of the armored cruiser Carlo Alberto, which lay in the roadstead. Therefore they retreated all along the line.

While the 11th Bersaglieri were attacking the fort at Hamidieh, which had been stormed last night, they were suddenly taken on the flank by a large force of Arabs hidden in the palm and olive groves and heavy losses were sustained before the enemy were beaten off.

ARMY AVIATORS TEMPTED.

Washington Was Treated to a Flight of Three Aeroplanes Yesterday.

Washington, Nov. 10.—A perfect, cloudless, windless, Indian Summer tempted the army aviators at College Park, Md., to pay long deferred social calls today upon their brother officers at Fort Myer, Va. So Washington was treated to a flight of three aeroplanes with their whirring propellers shining in the rays of the declining sun, winging their way back and forth from State to State, across the District of Columbia. The aeronauts were Capt. Beck and Lieuts. Arnold and Milling and they made the 28 mile round trip in almost as many minutes, though they stopped an hour at Fort Myer to see the weekly drill, and for luncheon.

HELD ON CHARGE OF MURDER

Coroner's Jury Implicates Mrs. Jane Quinn With Murder of Husband. Police to Continue Investigations in the Case.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Mrs. Jane Quinn was held on a charge of murder in connection with the death of her husband, John M. Quinn, by a coroner's jury today.

Quinn was found dead in bed November 2nd with a bullet wound in his body and Mrs. Quinn declared he had been killed by burglars.

The coroner's jury deliberated less than four hours before returning its verdict.

Mrs. Quinn listened to the verdict without exhibiting the least sign of emotion.

The Chicago police will continue their investigation into the mysterious death of Mrs. Quinn's two former husbands, John McDonald, whom she married in London, Ont., October 23, 1883, and Warren Thorpe, whom she married at Bass Lake, Mich., in October, 1901.

McDonald is reported to have died of alcohol poisoning September 28th, 1901. Thorpe was found shot to death in his home at Jackson, Mich., under circumstances similar to those attending the shooting of Quinn.

Mrs. Quinn and her daughter, by a previous marriage, were detained after the death of Thorpe, but were released because of insufficient evidence.

CAUSED BY HAZING.

Father Says Son's Life Was Lost Through Bad Treatment.

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 10.—The death of Cyril Norton, 18 years old, a freshman at the University of Illinois, is causing anxiety among the students of the school. Eugene Norton, father of the boy and former coroner of Dundee, Ill., having attributed his son's death to hazing.

The boy died yesterday of pneumonia, which is generally believed to have been contracted when he stood in the rain at Marshall Field watching the recent football game between the Universities of Chicago and Illinois.

When he returned to Champaign, pneumonia developed. A few days previous to the Chicago game the boy was thrown into a creek by sophomores, it is said, who were hazing their underclassmen. Norton is said to have contracted a slight cold from this, which was aggravated by the drenching he received at Chicago.

NEW YORK JUDGE REBUKED

Because He Refused to Let Club Adopt Name "Reno."

Reno, Nev., Nov. 10.—Governor Tasker L. Oddie, of Nevada, today issued a statement rebuking the New York judge who recently refused to allow an athetic club to adopt the name "Reno."

"This is about as narrow-minded an opinion as has been sent over the telegraph lines," said the governor, "any judge who could so belittle himself is past ordinary belief and how he could hold so important a position is a constitutional wonder. The Nevada divorce laws are excellent and until they are changed by law they will be on the statute books. It simply looks like a case of spite and a man who wishes to get into the public limelight through a sensational statement."

PLEA OF "NOT GUILTY."

Will be That of Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson.

Boston, Nov. 10.—The Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church, Cambridge, will enter on Monday next his plea before the grand jury's indictment charging him with the murder of his former fiancee, Avis Linnell, by poisoning. The plea will be "not guilty."

The announcement of the date of arraignment was officially made today by District Attorney Pelletier, who added that the time for the opening of the trial would be decided directly after the arraignment.

PRESIDENT TAFT AT OLD BATTLEFIELD

For More Than Two Hours Motored Over Hills and Valleys.

HIS SECOND DAY IN TENNESSEE

Came to a Close Yesterday---Declared That His Visit Was Not Political—Defended His Supreme Court Appointments

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 10.—After a day spent traveling through Tennessee President Taft late this afternoon was driven for 35 miles over the battlefield of Chicamauga where historians concede one of the bloodiest conflicts of the Civil War was fought. For more than two hours the President motored over the hills and through the valleys where General Bragg, at the head of the Confederate army and General Rosecrans, on the Union side, fought 49 years ago with a total loss of more than 35,000. With the President rode former Congressman Grosvenor, of Ohio, who was lieutenant colonel of the 18th Ohio and who is now a member of the Chickamauga National Park Commission, and United States Senator Frazier, of Tennessee. Immediately behind him rode many men who fought on one side or the other in that great battle. The President was whirled by scores of monuments that bore testimony to the valor of the thousands who fought at Chickamauga and paused more than once to read the inscriptions on shafts of stone and granite to the men who died on the field around him. On the summit of Kelly's Hill, one of the hotly contested spots on the battlefield, Mr. Grosvenor explained the way in which his regiment and those with him defended that point years ago.

"Ever since that battle," said Mr. Grosvenor, "we've been trying to convince the rebels that we won."

"You had a pretty hot time doing it did you?" said the President.

Mr. Taft's second day in Tennessee came to an end here. He began his trip across the State at Nashville early today, addressed th estudents at the University of the South at Sewanee, a few hours later and wound up the day's journey with an address in the auditorium here. Twice today the President declared that his visit to Tennessee was not political, and to the students of Chattanooga University he defended his appointments to the United States Supreme Court.

"It has been my privilege and pleasure while President," said Mr. Taft, "to appoint from the States of Tennessee, Louisiana and Georgia, to the United States Supreme Court, the highest judicial office in the world. Two of them were Confederate soldiers and I believe Democrats.

"However, I did not appoint them because they were ex-Confederate soldiers, but because they were good men and brainy lawyers."

On his way back to Chattanooga from Chickamauga Park the President stopped at Rossville, Ga. "I am glad," said he, "to learn that Rossville employs over 2,000. I was greatly surprised when I was in Georgia during the campaign to find that thirty-one counties and three congressional districts were not received for the Republican ticket. That indicates that Georgia is not past redemption. I am only here to contrate you. I am not here on a political errand."

CHANGES IN TRADE CURRENTS

Marked for Near Future Distribution —Business Failure for Week

New York, Nov. 10.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Changes in trade currents are not especially marked the turnover on the whole, save principally at the South, being of a fair to good substantial character, not for stocking up purposes entirely, but rather for near future distribution. But what is probably more significant sentiment, financial and commercial, the latter perhaps to a lesser extent than the former, has become undeniably better. This development can be traced to the proved tenor of things in the stock market to the recognition of the plain fact that stocks in most lines of merchandise are very light, that abstention from normal buying can hardly continue indefinitely, that business is much better than it was at this time last year, and because it is apparent that remodeling of so-called trusts will not work the sever hardships anticipated. Jobbers report a good filling in business which they think will display a steady gain throughout the Winter, thanks to light retailers stocks and the sparing way in which purchases have been made

As a general rule, business on Spring account is coming out rather slowly. Cotton goods are still affected by the belief of buyers that the price situation is not a steady one and therefore they are chary about making large future commitments. Staple goods and heavy knit goods are in request, though buyers of the latter grudingly pay the prices asked. Incidentally there is a shortage of help in some New England worsted and yarn mills.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending November 9th were 237 against 200 last week and 207 in the like week of 1910.

LARGE QUANTITIES ARSENIC

Found in the Bodies of Two More of the Ten Persons Who Died Mysteriously—May Open More Graves

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Poison found in the viscera of two more of the ten persons who had died mysteriously beneath the roof of Mrs. Louise Vermalya made more tangible today the suspicions and accusations made against the woman. At the county jail this afternoon where she lies ill from attempts to take her own life, she was not informed of the new evidence the police will bring to bear in charging her with murder.

Toxicologist Walter T. Haines, today made his report to the coroner's office. The finding was that arsenic was present in large quantities in the viscera of Conductor Richard T. Smith and of Frank Brinkamp, the latter being Mrs. Vermilya's son.

These two bodies were exhumed after poison had been found in the remains of Policeman Arthur Bissonnette, the last of the ten to die when relatives and friends told the coroner the circumstances of their deaths were similar to those of Bissonnette.

In the case of Frank Brinkamp Mrs. Vermilya's favorite son, the severance of the boy induced an investigation of the possibility of his having partaken of the "pepper box" poison. The coroner announced he would ask the State's attorney to request an indictment charging Mrs. Vermilya with having criminal knowledge of the causes of death of Brinkamp and Smith.

Coroner Haffman said he was disposed to open still more graves of those whose deaths had occurred beneath Mrs. Vermilya's roof. There were at least three others whose deaths were, he said, recent enough for poison to be apparent if they had so died. Whether he would go into these cases, he said, depended upon the advice of the State's attorney.

Mrs. Vermilya was near death during the day. She is suffering valvular heart disease.

THE LORIMER CASE.

Newspaper Editor Testified in the Case Yesterday.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Stories alleged to have been current at Springfield that Emanuel A. Abrahams, a member of the Legislature referred to as the "Bell Wether" of the election of United States Senator William Lorimer, had refused to vote for Lorimer for $2,500, but had done so when given $5,000, were related before the Senatorial investigating committee today.

Frederick E. Sterling, editor of a newspaper at Rockford, Ill., testified that prior to the election of May, 1909, he had had several conversations with James H. Corcoran, a former Democratic legislator.

"On the Sunday before the election," said Sterling, "while on a train between Rockford and Chicago, Corcoran told me he thought Lorimer was going to be elected that week because big money was being paid for votes. He said the money was coming from the stock yards and the lumber and butterine interests. William Loeffer, of Chicago, he said, was handing the money.

"In Springfield, the next day, Corcoran said Lorimer was going to be elected the following day, which was Tuesday. On Tuesday he came to me and said the election was not going to be put over after all. I asked him why and he replied that Abrahams would not break the ice for $2,500 offered him, but instead, wanted $5,000 and they would not come across with the larger amount.

"Wednesday he said they had come across with the $5,000 to Abrahams. 'You watch him now,' said Corcoran, 'He will be the first to break the ice.'"

Corcoran then testified he remembered conversations with Sterling, but he did not recall having made the exact statements attributed to him. He said he had heard of a report that Abrahams, a Democrat, had refused to "break the ice" in voting for Lorimer until he was paid $5,000, but he regarded it as a joke and did not know that he had repeated it to Sterling.

STOCK EXCHANGE FAILURES.

In Absence of Partners and Counsel no Statement Was Given.

New York, Nov. 10.—Two stock exchange failures, resulting primarily from the recent advance in the market, were announced today. The insolvent firms are W. L. Stevens & Company, and S. Ball & Whicher. Neither firm was especially prominent in the market.

In the absence of the partners and their counsel, no statement of liabilities or assets was obtainable from the Stevens firm. The firm was said to have been heavily short of United States Steel and Reading.

At the office of Ball & Whicher a statement was issued, saying that a general assignment had been made to Owen E. Abraham for the benefit of creditors without preference. The statement also declared that unsecured liabilities were less than $100,000. The liabilities were not given out. A member of the firm attributed its embarrassment in part to the failure of some customers to make good, impaired margins.

To Carnegie Corporation Organized in New York City Yesterday.

LEGISLATURE GRANTS CHARTER

"To Promote Advancement and Diffusion of Knowledge and Understanding Among People of United States."

New York, Nov. 10.—Andrew Carnegie tonight announced that he had given $25,000,000 to the Carnegie Corporation, of New York, organized here today under a charter granted by the New York Legislature last June, "to promote the advancement and diffusion of knowledge and understanding among the people of the United States."

In bestowing this gift upon the corporation, organized especially to receive it and apply its income to the purpose indicated, Mr. Carnegie in a statement given out at his home on Fifth avenue tonight said he intends to leave with the corporate body the work of founding and aiding libraries and educational institutions which he, as an individual, has carried on for many years. The statement follows:

"The Carnegie corporation, of New York, incorporated by an act passed by the New York Legislature June 9, 1911, was organized November 10, 1911.

"The purposes of the corporation, as stated in the charter, are as follows:

Franks, James Betram, and their successors are hereby constituted a body corporate by the name of Carnegie Corporation, of New York, for the purpose of receiving and maintaining a fund or funds and applying the income thereof to promote the advancement and diffusion of knowledge and understanding among the people of the United States by aiding technical schools, institutions of higher learning, libraries, scientific research, hero funds, useful publications and by such other agencies and means as shall from time to time be found appropriate therefor."

The incorporators met at Mr. Carnegie's house, Friday afternoon, November 10, 1911, accepted the charter, adopted the constitution and by-laws, and elected the following officers:

"President, Andrew Carnegie; vice president, Elihu Root; treasurer, Robert A. Franks; secretary, James Bertram.

"Mr. Carnegie transferred to the corporation for its corporate purposes, $25,000,000 par value first mortgage gold bonds of the United States Steel Corporation.

"It is intended that the business of the founding and aiding libraries and educational institutions, which had been carried on by Mr. Carnegie as an individual for many years, will be turned over to the corporation at an early date, and carried on by the corporation."

PROPER FUNERAL EXPENSES.

Colloquy Between Attorney and Representative of Railroad Employes.

Washington, Nov. 10.—The proper funeral expenses of the average railroad employe formed the subject of a brief colloquy today between Frank V. Whiting, claims attorney for the New York Central Railroad, and D. L. Cease, special representative of the railroad employes on the employers' liability and workmen's compensation commission.

Mr. Whiting was engaged in the presentation to the commission of some of the details which he thought should enter into the proposed legislation for the insurance of railroad men against accident, and in case of death, incidentally mentioned $100 as a proper allowance for the cost of a funeral. Mr. Cease took immediate issue with him, saying that he did not believe that a man could be decently buried for less than $125 or $150. In reply Mr. Whiting cited the fact that the Italian authorities had fixed $50 as the limit of funeral expenses of Italian subjects killed on American roads.

"But," responded Mr. Cease, "I was not speaking of Italians. I was speaking of American citizens."

Mr. Whiting gave the present total expenditures of the railroads of the United States as compensation to injured employes as almost $12,000,000, or about 1 per cent. of the aggregate pay roll of the roads. He placed the number of railroad employes at 1,648,033, of which number he said 3,602 had been killed and 126,039 injured during the past fiscal year.

Charles A. Emery, counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers, said that six million men were employed in the various manufacturing industries of the United States and urged that they be included in the proposal.

Declaring that it developed efficiency, uniformity and certainty he contended that society generally would be benefitted by the adoption of a Federal compensation scheme that would apply to all industries in any way involved with interstate commerce.

Chairman Sutherland stated that at the next meeting of the commission, November 22nd, a draft bill agreed upon by the commission would be presented for consideration.

PLANS FOR BIG CELEBRATION

Southport About Ready for the Event of Events for that Progressive Little Town—Excursion From Wilmington.

Plans for the big railroad celebration at Southport Thursday, November 23rd, are rapidly maturing and in a short time the complete programme will be announced. Already the features have been made public and they are such as to assure a large gathering in the little city on the eventful day. Everything is astir in the town and one and all are working with the one idea in view of making the celebration the biggest affair which has ever taken place in Brunswick county.

The event will celebrate the completion of the Wilmington, Brunswick & Southern Railroad to that town from Navassa, where it connects with the Seaboard and Coast Line, and it is announced that the road will run three excursion trains to Southport in order to accommodate the crowds expected to attend from Wilmington and section and points along the line traversed by the road. The first train will leave here at 8 o'clock in the morning.

Mayor Price Furpless, of Southport, has issued a general invitation to the people of Brunswick and surrounding counties to be present on the occasion of the celebration and an invitation has also been issued by the Southport Chamber of Commerce. The invitations are printed in this week's issue of the Southport News, occupying a conspicuous place on the front page, set double column with border around them. The Southport News has the following relative to the plans for the celebration, which will be read with interest throughout this section:

"Monday evening a special meeting of the various committees in charge of the railroad celebration met at the Court House, and discussed ways and means of making the event most attractive to everyone who will participate in it.

"The first train load of passengers will probably leave Wilmington for Southport about 8 o'clock on the morning of the 23rd, arriving here between 9:30 and 10 o'clock, and other trains will follow at short intervals. Each train will be met as it arrives and the incoming crowds duly escorted to Franklin Square, where the speech making is to take place. The tentative programme calls for 11:30 as the hour for addresses to begin. The speeches will occupy about two hours, and then will follow luncheon, which will be served in all the available places that the city can command. Large tables will be spread in Franklin Square, and the Masonic Hall and other public buildings will be utilized. Many of the county people will bring basket luncheons, and a place will be provided where they can have the use of tables.

"As for the invited guests of the occasion the plan will probably be to escort them aboard the 'Seminole' and take them over to the Quarantine Station for a banquet. Better accommodations can be provided for them there than anywhere else, and the chef is said to have had experience in serving many distinguished guests.

"Arrangements will be made to have boats run at frequent intervals to and from Fort Caswell so that visitors may have the privilege of seeing the fort, with all its attractions, and get a glimpse of the 'mighty Atlantic' at the same time. The officers at Fort Caswell are invited to serve on the entertainment committee and their co-operation will add greatly to the success of the day. The military band will be strongly in evidence, and the committees in charge of the musical part of the programme, it is hoped, will make sure that there is music a-plenty for every one to enjoy. This is one of the chief attractions of the day for many of the good people of the county who cannot listen to a band concert every week in the year.

"Boat parade and field sports will take place during the afternoon, following the barbecue, and bear-steak event, and if the weather is fair, these sports may include baseball. The committee in charge of decoration, will look for the fullest co-operation on the part of every resident of this city, and the response should be quick and comprehensive. This is an occasion when every public building, store and private residence should be properly decorated. Let everyone do their part, and make the city as gay and festive as possible.

"The committee on boat racing after due consideration, decided to have a boat parade instead of a race, as this would give all boats, large and small, a chance in the allotted time. Every owner or caretaker of a power boat is requested to decorate his boat and prepare for the big parade. A prize will be offered for the best decorated boat."

B. Hurst and E. N. Ennett, of Newbern, and Dr. J. Clyde Bell and Mr. Hugh Haskins, of Pollocksville. The services were attended by a number of grief-stricken relatives and friends and a large number of handsome floral designs covered the newly made mound.

..Theatrical..

The engagement of "The Girl from Rector's" will be at the Academy of Music today, for matinee and night, and seats for both performances are now on sale at Plummer's. The highest matinee price is virtually only 50 cents, as only box seats are 75 cents.

The play enjoyed a run of over 300 nights at Weber's Music Hall, New York, to the biggest business in the history of the house. "The Girl from Rector's" is by Paul M. Potter, who was also responsible for "Trilby," "The Queen of the Moulin Rouge" and other far-famed successes. Mr. Potter declares, however, that "The Girl from Rector's" is the greatest effort of his career.

The story of the play, briefly, is this: Loute Sedaine is "The Girl from Rector's ," a merry, dancing, dashing little slip of humanity. She is in love with Richard O'Shaugnessy, a young chap of ample wealth who, at the opening of the play, has plunged into dissipation as a result of the influence of Col. Andrew Tandy, whose headquarters is at the famous Broadway restaurant. Richard has wearied of bachelor life and welcomes the visit of Mrs. Witherspoon Copley, wife of Gen. Witherspoon Copley, of Battle Creek, Mich., and her daughter by first marriage, Miss Marcia Singleton. Marcia is engaged to a stupid, elderly cousin of Richard, a college professor, but Richard skillfully manages to end that engagement and bring about his own. He drives Col. Andrew Tandy out of his rooms and good luck takes Miss Singleton off on a supposed visit to her father, a grand army veteran, in Buffalo, where she spends a few months each year. Richard flies himself to Battle Creek and arrangements go forward for the marriage and the scenes shift from the east to the west. The complications begin at the same time Mrs. Copley's husband, the general, is thought to be in Martinique looking after extensive plantations, but he is to return in time for the wedding. Another guest at the Copley home is Judge Coperton, of the American Court at Shanghai, who spends ten months of the year abroad, leaving his wife to travel in Europe. General Copley turns out to be none other than Col. Andrew Tandy who, in disguise has been making merry in New York. Mrs. Coperton, one of the leading society women of Battle Creek, and wife of the Judge, is none other than Loute Sedaine, who has spent her long vacations in the vicinity of Rector's instead of going abroad. It is through her frequent visits to the restaurant that she gains the title "The Girl from Rector's." The complications that follow keep the audience in a roar of laughter from the rise of the first curtain to the fall of the last. The cast presenting the piece is regarded as one of the strongest that has been sent out of New York in many years.

The Spectacular "Bohemian Girl"

The Aborn Opera Company's big spectacular production of Balfe's masterpiece "The Bohemian Girl," one of the truly great successes of last season, comes to the Academy of Music next Wednesday night, November 15th. Aside from a meritorious musical rendition of the opera, there is a wealth of novel and attractive features that are most appealing. Incidental to the five great stage pictures which represent in the first act the exterior of the Castle of Count Arnheim, on the Danube, with a mountainous background, sufficiently massive and solid to resist the strain of 20 horses dashing up to an elevation of twenty-three feet from the stage level, in pursuit of the kidnapping Gypsy Chief. In the second act are four big scenes representing an encampment of real gypsies, a town fair or Kermess of Old Bohemia, a gypsy marriage and barbecue, and the court scene. In the last act the scene represents the interior of Count Arnheim's Castle, visualizing for the first time on any stage, the beautiful marble halls immortalized in song, and in the effort for realism, all of these big scenes contain a wealth of marvellous incidental detail employing in all one hundred people, and introducing real gypsies, wonderful whirlwind acrobats, twenty trained horses, so consistently introduced that they in no way interfere with a musicanly rendition of the complete score.

Seats will go on sale Tuesday.

At the Bijou

It is indeed a great bill the Bijou has prepared for this week-end. It is going to be a glorious finale to a week that has bristled with artistic success and that has been fine for attendance in spite of the weather, and this latter emphasized the fact that it is well known that the Bijou is ever comfortable.

The bill today is going to snap with bright comedy films, which will be of most novel nature and that will split sides with laughter. In the lead of the smile pictures comes "Hi Feathertop at the Fair." This is a real "Rube" photo-play and one that has the brightness and din of the carnival about it, and the way "Hi" gets fleeced by the bunco men is a howl. Another big scream on today's bill is 'The Right John Smith,' and it shows complications that arise from the bumper crop of Smiths found in every city directory. "Love Moulds Labor" is the star in the dramatic and it is a stirring one, too. The other films are also features and the music for today is new and awfully jolly.

Big Success at The Grand.

Yesterday, Nurses' Benefit Day, was a great success at The Grand Theatre and the beautiful house was crowded all during the afternoon and evening, the attraction being not alone for the worthy benefit for which the day was devoted, but because of the high-class amusement and the comfort with which all performances at The Grand may be enjoyed. Today, Saturday, will be Matinee Day and the Grand visitors will see three of the best pictures presented. A Lubin film is entitled, "Lover's Victory," in which is told a graphic and sensational story of an elopement. Papa's batting average in this contest was an "O" with the circle from around it, while Cupid batted out an even thousand. The Kosmik, or Gaumont film will be "Giving the High Sign," a comedy in colors, a humorous demonstration of the philosophy and expediency of the "high sign" in secret orders. The third film will be a realistic and thrilling prize fighting scene that will keep one's hair on end from beginning to end.

A WILMINGTON ATHLETE.

Bluethenthal a Leading Member of Princeton Baseball Squad.

Many Wilmington people will be interested to know that the star player on Princeton's great football team this year is a Wilmington boy, Bluethenthal, a son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Bluethenthal, of this city. He played a great game at Princeton last Saturday when the Tigers for the first time in years defeated Harvard by the decisive score of 8 to 6. All the big New York papers carried cuts of the players, among them, Bluethenthal, who was one of the bright particular stars of this game. The New York Herald in a page write-up of the great annual struggle said:

"While the work of Duff stood out strongly, it would not be fair to the rest of the men beside him to give him all the credit. At centre Bluethenthal played a game that was just about as fine an exposition of the needs of that position as one could wish for. He was guilty of one error, though, that might have cost the Tigers dearly when he made a poor pass on an attempt for a field goal. That was the only time, however, that his passing was not first class. Hart was also one of the bulwarks of the defense, but he had earned his spurs before and it was only to be expected of him that he should be among the shining lights of the contest."

The New York Morning Telegraph, in speaking of the game, said:

"Bluethenthal proved himself one of the best centers in the East, playing his position with remarkable calculation and judgment. He diagnosed the Crimson attacks beautifully and seemed to know just when a forward pass was coming, in which he always played loose center."

The Famous Rayo Lamp

The best part of the day is the evening, when the whole family is gathered together around the lamp.

The old days of the smoky fireplace and flickering candle are gone forever. In their place have come the convenient oil stove and the indispensable Rayo Lamp.

There are to-day, in the United States alone, more than 3,000,000 of these Rayo lamps, giving their clear, white light to more than 3,000,000 homes.

Other lamps cost more, but you cannot get a better light than the low-priced Rayo gives. It has become so popular we may almost call it "the official lamp of the American family."

The Rayo is made of solid brass, with handsome nickel finish—an ornament anywhere.

Executive Council of Farmers' Union at Greensboro—Wake Forest and Davidson — Davidson Fair—Gate City News

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 10.—Members of the advisory council of the State Farmers' Union held a long session here last night, the main purpose of the meeting being to discuss certain contracts and plans for the establishment of more local warehouses throughout the State.

In attendance at the meeting were Dr. H. Q. Alexander, of Mecklenburg, State president; Dr. J. M. Templeton, of Wake, State vice president; E. C. Farriss, of Cleveland, secretary; J. Z. Green, Union organizer; J. R. Rives, Lee, business agent; I. C. Coggins, Chatham; C. C. Wright, Wilkes; W. H. Moore, Pitt; T. D. Brown, Rowan, and Dr. J. T. Smith, Surry.

After the conference, which continued until midnight, it was announced that no action was taken that was yet ripe for publication, though the impression was given that matters of large importance to the farmers of the State were considered in many details.

State Organizer Green stated to your correspondent that fine reports are being received from the various local warehouses recently established in many counties of the State and that the general distribution system of these warehouses was meeting with satisfaction. The aim of the union is to eventually consolidate all local warehouses into a central State selling agency, the work of the agency being to find the best markets for farm products. It was also announced that President Barrett, of the National Union, and R. D. N. Wilson, of the Mississippi Department of Agriculture, had signified their intention of being present at the State Farmers' Convention which convenes at Wilson December 13th. Mr. Wilson will explain the consolidated farmers' warehouse systems being used with great success in his State.

The marketing of the chestnut crop of Western North Carolina is now in full swing and daily great quantities of the nuts pass through Greensboro by express consigned to the Northern markets. In one day this week several truck loads were on the platform here awaiting shipment North. A gentleman here from the mountains yesterday said that according to reports in his immediate vicinity the chestnut crop this year would be the greatest on record.

The people of Greensboro—especially the football enthusiasts—are keenly awaiting the Davidson College-Wake Fortst game here tomorrow. Information from Davidson last night was to the effect that the student body of that institution had perfected arrangements for a special excursion train to be operated from Davidson to Greensboro and that the entire student body would be present to witness the game.

Yesterday at Jamestown, near Greensboro, Ernest Frazier, a son of J. A. Frazier, of that place, and brother of Plato Frazier, of Greensboro, had a narrow escape from death by being thrown from a buggy and then dragged several hundred feet. Mr. Frazier is in a serious condition. It seems that the horse he was driving took fright and ran away. Mr. Frazier became entangled in part of the buggy from which he was thrown and was dragged over the rough road for several hundred feet, sustaining a sprained ankle, many bruises and perhaps internal injury. It is regarded as a miracle almost that he was not killed outright.

The Davidson County Fair at Lexington, closed in a 'blaze of electricity" last night and also amid a downpour of rain. The magnificent display of fireworks last night, was witnessed by a large crowd of people, notwithstanding the inclement weather. The crowd yesterday was comparatively small on account of the cold rain, there not being more than 5,000 in attendance it is said, while last year on the closing day a crowd estimated at 20,000 people attended The exhibits this year were far superior to any previous year, especially in the woman's work department. The number of entries was astonishingly large. W. M. Montgomery, of Greensboro, who judged the poultry department, says that the entries were very fine; that he was surprised to learn that there was so much fine poultry raised around Lexington.

HARNETT CITIZEN KILLED.

Caught in Line Shaft of Gin—News Notes of Dunn, N. C.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Dunn, N. C., Nov. 10.—Mr. Wyatt H. Wiggins, a prosperous farmer and prominent citizen of Coats, this county, was killed instantly yesterday by being caught on the line shaft of his gin. Mr. Wiggins was working around the gin and in some manner his clothing was caught in the shafting and he was hurled to his death before the machinery could be stopped. Mr. Wiley Wiggins, a brother of the deceased, was killed exactly in the same manner in Georgia, about 20 years ago.

Mr. Jessie Thomas, assistant agent of the Durham & Southern Railroad here, has taken a position with the Norfolk Southern in Raleigh and will leave in a few days for his new home. Mr. E. J. Hudson, agent of the Durham & Southern at Angier, for several years, will succeed Mr. Thomas here.

Ashley Pope, who pitched for Savannah in the S. A. L. last year, has signed with Oakland, Cal., for next season and will leave in the Spring for training.

The Board of County Commissioners Monday signed a contract with Mr. John A. Weeks, of Dunn, to take charge of the county home and farm. The county owns 135 acres of fine land about two miles from Lillington. It will be a model farm and experimental and demonstration work will be done. Harnett court convenes next Monday with Judge Peebles presiding.

This handsome club house is on the banks of Lake Waccamaw near Wananish, and is a commodious and splendid structure, completed with the exception of a few finishing touches. The Governing Board met here yesterday to perfect the arrangements for its furnishings and opening which will take place the first of March, in time for the first fishing of the season. Besides the spacious club rooms there are 12 bed rooms, with all modern conveniences and electric lights it is hoped to next year open the club for the year round, which will be an ideal spot for pleasure. A cook, janitor and care-taker will be employed to remain at the club for the entire time and it will be run on the club style. Mr. F. B. Gault is president with Mr. K. Clyde Council secretary and treasurer.

A rather unusual occurrence took place in the Register of Deeds office here yesterday when Mr. Wiley C Britt, of Chadbourn, came in from his home and procured a marriage license to be married to Miss Annie Williamson, of Evergreen. This ceremony was to take place at the home of the bride. An hour afterwards Mr. W. H. Britt, of Chadbourn, a brother of Mr. Wiley Britt, entered the office with his prospecuve bride and stated that he wanted a license and a minister both, stating that he wished the ceremony performed at once. "Judge" Maxwell was summoned and in a few minutes joined him in the bonds of matrimony to Miss Mattie Lawson, also of Evergreen, in the office of the Register of Deeds.

The friends of Gov. Kitchin here have extended him an invitation to make an address in Columbus county, perhaps at Whiteville, and it is expected that he will accept——Mrs. W. H. Schulken, of the Whiteville bar, was in Wilmington yesterday on professional business——Rev. Chas. C. Clawson, of The Star, and Mr. T. M. Pridgen, of the Dispatch. The Columbus county people appreciated the press sending these popular representatives and they received a heartfelt welcome from every one.

The list of prizes have not yet been entirely arranged, but so soon as they are received will be sent The Star by our correspondent here.

Deputy Benton, of Vineland, and J. B. Holland, of Dunn, last night captured near Mollie, in this county, a sixty-five gallon still and attachments thereto. The still was on the edge of a bay, but the owners were not apprehended.

PORK RUNS AT LARGE

Train Near Asheville, N. C.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 10.—A car load of hogs, consigned to some man in South Carolina, was broken open yesterday afternoon and the hogs escaped and scattered over the landscape, when southbound freight train No. 54 was derailed at the 29th mile post near Fletcher, on the Asheville and Spartanburg road of the Southern Railway. It would seem that this would have been a good opportunity for the people living in that section to get their Winter's supply of pork, but for the fact, as is stated this morning that many of the hogs have been recovered and it is thought that most of them will be found.

Five cars were derailed and as a result passenger No. 10 and the Carolina special had to be detoured by way of the C. C. & O. The train was in charge of Conductor Mills and Engineer Divelbiss. No one was injured and the track was cleared about midnight last night.

Suit Against Power Company

Proceedings were instituted in Superior Court yesterday by the Gibbes Machinery Company against the Tidewater Power Company. Although the complaint has not yet been filed it is understood that the plaintiff will ask for a sum of something over $225 for alleged damage to a Reo touring car belonging to it by one of the trolley cars of the defendant company. Jno. D. Bellamy & Son represent the plaintiff.

Fine Quail Shooting.

Messrs. James E. Holton and John N. Harris returned on the early train yesterday morning from New Berlin where they enjoyed a day's sport afield in that section. They succeeded in bagging 29 of as fine quail as have been seen in the city in many a day. All told during the week they have bagged nearly a hundred fine quail in the territory adjacent to Wilmington.

MISTAKEN FOR BEAR.

Beaufort County Young Man Fatally Shot—Washington News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, N. C., Nov. 10.—News reached here of the accidental shooting of Mr. Tank Allen while hunting bear near the mouth of the Pungo river, several days ago. Mr. Allen and his friend, Joseph Stokesberry, both of Beaufort county, were hunting bear near the head of the Pungo river about 50 miles from this city, several night ago. Mr. Allen was stationed at one end of a swamp thicket waiting, while his companion went to another part of the swamp, hoping to drive the bear in Mr. Allen's direction. The wait becoming tedious and bruin making no disposition to show himself, Mr. Allen started in search of his companion and approached them in the darkness unannounced. They, hearing the cracking of the underbrush and hearing a noise supposed it to be a bear and both opened fire on the supposed animal, shooting Mr. Allen, both loads of buckshot entering his abdomen and mortally wounding him. As soon as they discovered their mistake they hurried the young man to a doctor and everything possible was done to save him, but from last reports he is not expected to live longer than a few hours at most. Mr. Allen was about 30 years old, highly respected and lived with his widowed mother.

One of the largest real estate deals ever made in this city was consummated a few days ago when the Grist property, lying on the western suburb of this city, was sold in pursuance of an order of court for a division among the respective heirs. The tract was first offered in lots, the aggregate of which bids amounted to $30,100. But putting it up as a whole Mr. Joseph F. Taylce ran it up to $38,025, and he being the highest bidder, secured the property.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of Pamlico Lodge No. 73, Knights of Pythias, was held in their Castle Hall on Main street last evening and was well attended. There was work in the second degree and one candidate was initiated into the mysteries of this rank. After the regular business and lodge meeting the Knights were the guests of the lodge at an informal oyster supper.

An Innovation in Oil Heaters

The Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater, with its drums enameled in turquoise, is an ornament to any room, whether in the country or city home.

No home is quite complete without a Perfection Oil Heater. It is a necessity in the fall and spring, when it is too warm to start the regular heating apparatus, and too cool to be without heat. In the midst of winter it is often convenient as an auxiliary heater, as there are always some cold corners in a house.

The enameled heater always presents a nice appearance, as the enamel will not tarnish or burn off. It is not an "enamel paint," but it is the same as the enamel of your cooking utensils.

The Perfection is the most reliable and convenient portable heating device you can find. An automatically-locking flame spreader prevents turning the wick high enough to smoke.

Nine-tenths of the people will agree with you if you stick to common sense and act upon your convictions.

A dispatch says, "Maine is dry." Of course, everybody will understand from the dispatch that Maine thinks she is dry.

A South Carolinian who was in jail got out on condition that he would marry. When a man gets in jail there is no telling what is to become of him.

Be sure you are right and then go ahead regardless of consequences. Davy Crockett said something like that, but we added the last three words.

Cheer up. If all the trusts are not busted and Taft is elected, we will have to go right on making a living. Get ready for next year's business regardless of the outlook.

A man ought to get credit for what he does most all the time instead of being condemned for dropping his candy every now and then throughout the 365 days in the year.

A contemporary refers to the fact that "the mind of an Ohio lawyer has become a blank." He is, therefore, not responsible for his deeds—done on paper or done in the body.

Experts have determined that the real man at 20 years of age is worth $6,230. A real girl who helps mother and steals a kiss from her when mother is not expecting it, is worth $6,230,000.

Thanksgiving? Well, Pittsburg can be thankful that it isn't Hankow. Most all men can be thankful that they are not Dr. Cook. Let us all be thankful for something, even if it is for not having a game leg.

"Not one word about the Steel Trust" declares Col. Roosevelt. The Colonel does not propose to talk about the Steel Trust so long as it has nothing to say against him. Friends do not go around talking about each other.

Now there's Col. Bob Phillips, of the Greensboro News, but he may as well be a "colonel" as the balance of us—on paper. A fellow can be dubbed colonel till he invariably looks around when somebody on the streets yells out "colonel."

The Charleston News and Courier announces that "another man has gone into bankruptcy on account of Gaby Deslys." It's good for him. She announced before hand that she wouldn't give two straws for a man with only 30 cents.

We are very much interested in solving the cotton problem, but we wouldn't give you a shuck for all the solutions till nine-tenths of the farmers join the Farmers' Union and stick to the plans for raising home supplies instead of producing cotton to buy something to eat.

Rochester, N. Y., is a great convention city and it is claimed that conventions have debauched the city. Of course, there has to be a banquet for every convention, but it is a mighty poor man who couldn't go to a banquet every night and avoid being tucked away under the table.

The New York Times is again worrying itself over what shall be the "National flower." We vote for Hecker's Corn Flour. The grocers and people generally do not seem to know that flour made from selected corn is one of the most delicious and nutritious of productions for muffins battercakes and pones. People all over the United States ought to be ashamed not to know that corn flour beats all the other flowers.

RESOURCES HIDDEN FROM VIEW.

The resources of eastern North Carolina are hidden from view and we are doing nothing to demonstrate them. At times we have made a great noise like we were going to play thunder, but after the first fanfare of trumpets we fall down instead of going ahead. What eastern North Carolina needs is a great leader who will get all our forces organized for going ahead, for the secret of our failure to do effective work both for our cities and sections is because of the lack of effective organization. Our plans are disjointed and indefinite. There is a screw loose about them, or else we would quit marching up the hill and staying there.

On Wednesday we witnessed an impromptu agricultural fair at Chadbourn. There was a splendid agricultural exhibit as a side issue to the educational rally of the Farmers' Union of Columbus county. There was no special effort to hold a fair, but for a neighborhood effort it was highly creditable. The farmers around Chadbourn are accomplishing and achieving things and they manifested a disposition to show what they had been doing on their farms. Their exhibits spoke in loud tones for the success of agriculture around Chadbourn, and the products on display constituted the strongest kind of evidence of the splendid agricultural possibilities of Columbus county.

As we viewed the splendid products of the farms around Chadbourn and noted the deep interest of the thousands of people gathered there, the impression we got from it was that the people in our unexcelled farming region have gotten ahead of the supposed leaders in our cities and towns. There is something doing in the country and the country people are proud of what they are doing. They want to show what they are doing and they should be given an opportunity to demonstrate their achievements and proclaim the possibilities of this country.

Reflection upon the efforts of the farmers of Columbus to let others see what they can do, leads us to the conclusion that the people of eastern North Carolina want a fair at which they can show what the Nation's Garden Spot is doing. We should say that Wilmington is the place to make an extensive exhibit of the resources of eastern North Carolina, for all the counties should co-operate and make such an exposition as would make visitors sit up and take notice.

We are satisfied we should have a Spring or Fall fair, and that it could be made a splendid success. It should not be Wilmington's fair, but that of all the counties in eastern North Carolina. There are several purposes to be served by such an exhibition. It would open our own eyes to the productivity of eastern North Carolina. It would be educational for our farmers and stimulate them in their vocation. It would advertise the splendid resources of this region. It would attract settlers to the various counties which would make exhibits of their agricultural achievements. It would afford us the opportunity to demonstrate the unrivalled trucking and agricultural possibilities of eastern North Carolina, and to show to the world that the field is here for a great dairying, cattle, hog and sheep industry. It would afford the people an opportunity for a Fall or Spring frolic while showing eastern North Carolina to the world.

The people of Columbus have shown us that it is natural for people who do things to want it to be known. When a man scores an achievement he should have a chance to make it known. He wants publicity to be given to the fact. Some men seek notoriety for themselves but most men really desire to do something that will have a lasting effect for the betterment of their community or for the benefit of mankind in general. That kind of men are the progressives. They are the live men, for no back number in any particular was ever known to do anything for himself or for his community.

It is the man who does something for himself who does something for the community in which he lives. The man who achieves for himself achieves for his community, for his county, and for his State. It is the man who "wades in" and does things who gets the credit and who really deserves it. Of course, people may say "he wants to get in the limelight," but what of that? They will say that about every man who wants to do something, whether he does it for himself or the community. Nevertheless, in spite of the talk, the man who goes right on doing things and scoring achievements has never been known to quit the game with cold feet.

Will somebody please "wade in" and start something in eastern North Carolina—something that will give publicity to our resources so they no longer can be hidden from view?

WAY TO GET SETTLERS

The Governors of the South Atlantic States should by all means go to Baltimore during the first week in December, by way of accepting the invitation of Governor Crothers to discuss plans for attracting settlers to the South. That conference will do good, even if it only serves to agitate the question. It certainly will go a long ways towards emphasizing the needs of the South and show to the world that the South has its doors open to new-comers.

No practical method has yet been discovered as to how the States may co-operate in securing immigrants. In fact, each State has to deal with its own problems, but Governor Crothers and the other Southern executives can put their States on record as inviting settlers and do something to attract attention to the opportunities in the South. The Star has often pointed out the way to get settlers, though we do not arrogate to ourselves the discovery of the plan, but we have observed that it never fails to succeed. Land syndicates and private land owners can get settlers by offering direct opportunities to people who wish to come to the South. A general, indefinite invitation amounts to nothing, however entertaining. However, when people are offered homes and lands at stipulated prices and on inviting terms you will see them treking Southward.

Colonization schemes bring people, as has been time and again demonstrated. Senator J. A. Brown demonstrated it right close to Wilmington when he settled northwestern people on the rich cutover lands of Columbus county. He converted a cutover pine region into an ideal agricultural country, and altogether about 2,000 people have settled throughout the surrounding country. The consequence is a thriving town of more than 1,200 people, as the nucleus of their successful activities. The way to get settlers is to go after them with a farm, like Senator Brown did.

The way to get settlers is to do like the South Carolina capitalists who have purchased 17,000 acres of land in Chesterfield county for the purpose of settling farms on easy terms. The way to attract settlers is to do it like Mr. Hugh MacRae, of Wilmington, together with his associates, has done. They have gone after them and got them. They provide people with homes and farms and help them in more ways than one. People will settle in the South when they are informed about the opportunities here for them, and when it is made known to them how they can pull up pegs somewhere else and come to eastern North Carolina.

Lest Senators Lorimer and Stephenson forget, we want them to remember that we are still in favor of giving them a run for the money they paid out to be elected United States Senators. It should be stated that there are no more senatorships on sale.

The Durham Herald remarks: "The fact of the matter is that we do not know a town in North Carolina where it cannot be had with more or less ease." The Charlotte Chronicle adds: "Except Statesville." We'll never do it, till we've been there and wanted it right bad.

The people of the United States will be pretty apt to want Woodrow Wilson for President because the President would be Woodrow Wilson and Woodrow Wilson would be the President. The New Jersey Governor comes within an ace of standing for everything that the people want. Any time that he is satisfied he is mistaken, he is sufficiently educated not to keep on making mistakes. Wilson is the kind of man who wants to do right and if he can't do it the first time he will keep on trying to do it. We know the man and knew his father.

CURRENT COMMENT.

We know some politicians who are planning a great Thanksgiving celebration this year, as they fear there won't be any in 1912.—Washington Post.

The gloomy prediction that by the year 2911 the women will have no little toes does not scare the women of this generation. Who would care to have five toes, anyway, if four toes were the fashion?—Chicago Tribune.

As long as the decent, respectable people of Chester are willing for the nearly 2,000 purchaseable votes to control the business of the city, the men who are responsible for the buying and selling of votes will be found willing to assume control.—Chester (Pa.) Republican.

The Wilmington Star suggests that the farmers of the South had better raise more to eat at home, at cost, instead of producing cotton for Europe, at less than cost. The Star is right. And when our farmers can see the matter in this light, and act accordingly, they will be better off and independent of everybody else in the world.—Salisbury Post.

Major Charles M. Stedman, Congressman from the Fifth District, is here on his native heath, as the guest of his brother, Mr. Frank H. Stedman. Major Stedman, who is looking in splendid health and is in fine spirits, is meeting and shaking hands with hosts of friends and admirers, for all the older people of this section, knowing him, recognize his sterling worth and great ability. The Fifth Congressional District is well represented now, for Maj. Chas. M. Stedman easily stands in the front rank in the Sixty-second Congress, both in point of ability and fearless patriotism.—Fayetteville Observer.

Superintendent Laughinghouse, of the State prison, gives the statement that on the farms this year he has made 1,500 bales of cotton on 1,500 acres, enough corn and forage to last nearly two years, enlarged the buildings for the stock and forage, and done much work in putting up dykes on Roanoke river so as to make possible a bigger crop next year. This is good news and is a result of good farming and good business methods, and speaks finely for the management. The best contrast between the Republican and Democraic adminittration in North Carolina is found in the management of the penitentiary. When the Republicans were in power the management of the penitentiary was a stench in the nostrils of the people. When the Democrats came into power, all that was changed. Under Aycock, Glenn and Kitchin the management of the penitentiary has been clean, capable and businesslike. It is a glorious record and is the best indication of Democratic government.—Raleigh News and Observer.

OVERWORK CAUSE OF COLLAPSE

Lady in Whites Creek Had Sad Experience, But is Now Doing Very Well.

Whites Creek, W. Va.,—Mrs. S. P. Ferguson, of this place, says: "I suffered from womanily troubles for years. The doctors said that overwork brought my trouble on. I had such dragging pains, and suffered very badly with sick headache and dizzy spells. I was very nervous at times.

Before I commenced to take Cardui I would often wake up in the middle of the night, with pains all over me, till I could hardly stand it, and could not sleep. In all I have taken five bottles of Cardui, and I am so much better.

Cardui is fine. It has helped me very much. I can highly recommend the medicine, for I have tried it. I wish every suffering woman would take Cardui, the woman's tonic."

Cardui has a specific, curative effect, on the womanly constitution, and thus assists nature to restore health, by providing strength where it is most needed.

For more than half a century, nothing has been found to take the place of Cardui, for preventing unnecessary pains and misery from womanly troubles.

You know that Cardui will help you because it has helped more than a million weak, sick, miserable women.

It is certainly worth trying. Do it today. At the nearest drug store.

MR. JAMES QUINN DEAD

Former Resident of Wilmington Passed Away in Florida

Mrs. W. B. Savange received a telegram last evening conveying to her the sad intelligence of the death of her father, Mr. James Quinn, which occurred in the afternoon at his home at Punta Gorda, Fla., where he has lived since he left Wilmington 18 years ago. The telegram did not give any particulars and it is not known here whether he had been ill for some days or died suddenly, though the last letters received by Mrs. Savange did not contain any mention of his being sick. Accompanied by her husband, Mrs. Savnge will leave this afternoon for Punta Gorda to attend the funeral, which will be held there. She will have the tenderest sympathy of a great many friends in her bereavement.

Mr. Quinn lived in Wilmington practically all his life until he left here 18 years ago for Punta Gorda, where he has been engaged in the cultivation of oranges and other fruits grown in that State. He was about 70 years of age and is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Savage, of this city. Mr. Quinn was well-known to a large number of people in this city and they will learn with regret of his passing.

You tax the kidneys—overwork them—
They can't keep up the continual strain.
The back gives out—it aches and pains;
Urinary troubles set in.
Don't wait longer—take Doan's Kidney Pills.
Wilmington people tell you how they act.

Joseph C. Vereen, 320 S. Sixth St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "Some time ago I strained myself while lifting and soon after my back became very lame and sore. I could not stoop without having sharp pains shoot through my body. My kidneys also bothered me and I had a constant desire to pass the kidney secretions particularly at night. I could get nothing that would relieve me until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Robt. Bellamy's Drug Store. The use of two boxes stopped the pains in my back and regulated the passages of the kidney secretions. I am very willing to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

CONSIDERATION OF REPORT

Recommendations of Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt Taken Up One by One by Council Yesterday—New Sanitary Law.

The City Council in special session for two hours yesterday morning gave careful consideration to the several recommendations contained in Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt's supplementary report of the health department as made to the body in regular session Tuesday afternoon. A new sanitary ordinance was put in form and practically agreed upon; Dr. Nesbitt was instructed to advise with other physicians of the city as to best method of handling tuberculosis in Wilmington and report to a later meeting of the board; referred to Councilman B. C. Moore to confer with County Board of Education the matter of individual drinking cups in city schools, and took favorable action on the other recommendations in the report.

The Council met at 10 o'clock, Mayor Smith presiding and all members in attendance; also City Attorneys Herbert McClammy and Geo. L. Peschau, Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, and Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer. The first recommendation taken up was with regard to tuberculosis. Dr. Nesbitt, in his report, pointed out that "the occurrence of 27 deaths from tuberculosis in this city since June 1st emphasizes the importance of establishing such requirements and regulations as exist in Asheville for the regulation of this disease." The gravity of the situation was realized by members of Council, all of whom agreed that something should be done toward stamping out the disease. Upon motion of Councilman Tiencken the matter was referred to Dr. Nesbitt with request that he confer with other physicians of the city and others interested in the fight against the disease with a view of formulating some measures for presentation to the Council at a later meeting.

Next was the recommendation with reference to individual drinking cups, the superintendent of health pointing out that some provision should be made for supplying to the schools a destructible paraffine or paper cup, which cannot be used a second time. Members of Council expressed the opinion that the County Board of Education would gladly make some arrangements for carrying out the recommendation if its attention were called to the matter, so Councilman B. C. Moore was appointed to confer with the board.

Council then took up the first recommendation in the report, that sanitary closets be installed in the sections not reached by a sewerage plant. Dr. Nesbitt spoke briefly when the matter was brought up, saying that since the adoption of the sanitary closet in a number of seaport cities the typhoid death rate had been reduced considerably and remarked that Dr. Chas. W. Stiles, the hookworm expert, who made some experiments at the United States Marine Hospital in this city, told him that he had never seen or heard of such soil pollution as observed in Wilmington, though perhaps the soil pollution in China was as bad. This soil pollution, said Dr. Nesbitt, is caused mostly by the surface closet.

The health department had caused to be drafted an ordinance which contained the provisions desired by the department. This was read by the clerk and after some minor changes it was practically agreed upon by members of the Council, except Mayor Smith, who was uncertain on one or two points. At his suggestion action was deferred until next meeting, as it is hoped that in the meantime the city will have heard from the bondholders of the sewerage company as to its answer to the city's ultimatum on the sewerage question. The ordinance as proposed provides for the use of a standard can, one that will meet the requirements of the health department, but the cans may be obtained anywhere the purchaser desires to buy them. The cans are to be cleaned by the city scavengers and a charge of 25 cents for each service on each closet is provided, the same to be paid by the owner or tenant in possession of the property. The amount thus collected is to go toward paying the expenses of the work. It is not stated in the ordinance how often the cans are to be cleaned, the only reference to it being "as often as deemed necessary." The ordinance, if it is adopted, will become effective December 1st.

The recommendation relative to abolition of shallow driven wells was left open for individual action; that is, the health department is empowered to act as each individual case seems to warrant; wells that are found to be polluted will be condemned and closed, while those that show up well in analysis will not be closed.

Upon the suggestion of the legal department it was decided to bring indictments against the City Livery Company and Orrell livery stables to compel them to comply with the recent ordinance of the Council relative to keep of horse stables. The recommendation relative to the employment of a competent person to make a thorough examination of all the drains was left open until a later meeting. Dr. Nesbitt stated to the Council that he had found in one instances a manhole full of filth within 10 feet of a well. Dr. Nesbitt suggested two remedies. Either buy the sewers and give the city power over them, or condemn them as unsanitary. The recommendation that "immediate steps be taken to reconstruct the Front street market house along sanitary lines, and also that competent and efficient custodians for the city markets be provided at once," was left in the hands of Mayor Smith, who has charge of the markets, with the suggestion that the clause with regard to "competent and efficient custodians" does not necessarily mean to change market house officers unless those in charge now are not giving the service. There was a brief discussion of the recommendation that all trash and garbage be destroyed by burning, but no action was taken on this.

The Council adopted an ordinance, drawn by City Attorney Herbert McClammy, permitting the water pipes at intersection of Fifth street and the Seaboard Air Line Railroad tracks to be lowered so as to bring the pipes under the railroad tracks as they will be when lowered following the excavation work now being done by the company in that section. The Seaboard Air Line is to deposit an amount equal to the cost of the work of lowering the pipes, and it is to be left to the courts to decide who is liable for the costs, the city or the railroad company. The Council then adjourned.

The Proposed Ordinance.

The following is the text of the ordinance as it appears after the changes and modification suggested by the Council were made at yesterday's meeting, and which, if adopted, will take the place of sanitary closet ordinance now on the statute books of the city:

Section 7.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to own, maintain, or rent a privy in the city of Wilmington unless the said privy shall have been registered with the health office.

Section 2.—No privy in the city of Wilmington shall be used as a place for the deposit of human excrement until a permit shall have been obtained from the health officer.

Section 3.—A permit for the use of any privy in the city of Wilmington shall be issued only after an inspection of the health officer or sanitary inspector has found the said privy so constructed as to prevent the access of flies to the excrement deposited therein; and, after the privy shall have been found so constructed as to permit the proper and easy placing and removal of receptacle 16 inches in height and 15 inches in diameter, which receptacle will be furnished, if requested, by the city of Wilmington at cost; and, after the privy shall be found to be so located as to be accessible to the city scavenger.

Section 4.—It shall be the duty of the health office to revoke the permit for the use of a privy whenever the condition on which the permit was granted shall no longer obtain.

Section 5.—It shall be unlawful for a privy, the permit for the use of which has been revoked, to be used until another permit shall have been obtained provided that at least 48 hours' notice shall be given before such revocation shall take effect.

Section 6.—No person shall deposit any human excrement within the corporate limits of the city of Wilmington except in a closet connected with a public sewer, or in a privy for which a permit by the health officer has been issued.

Section 7.—It shall be the duty of the health officer to have every privy in the city of Wilmington inspected by the sanitary inspectors at least once every ten days. The result of each inspection shall be noted in duplicate on blank forms for that purpose, the original left on the door of the privy inspected and a copy filed with the health officer.

Section 8.—It shall be the duty of the health department of the city of Wilmington to provide the means and supervise the removal of excrement from the aforesaid privies, as often as it may be deemed necessary.

Section 9.—The city scavenger shall on removing a receptacle from a privy replace it immediately by a similar receptacle that has been thoroughly cleaned and disinfected according to the directions of the health officer.

Section 10.—A charge of 25 cents for each service shall be paid on each privy herein provided for by the owner or tenant in possession of the property, and the amount so collected shall be used to defray the expenses of disinfection of such privies, and all scavenging therein done, where done by the health department of the city.

Section 11.—Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be subject to a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $50.

Section 12.—The provisions of this ordinance shall be in force and effect on and after December 1st, 1911.

Section 13.—All ordinances in conflict with the terms heretofore are hereby repealed.

ADDING NEW EQUIPMENT

Improvements at Gas Works That Will Give Increased Capacity and Involves Expenditure of About $30,000.

In order to meet the increased demands of the growing city and to be in position to render better service to its many customers the Tidewater Power Company is installing at its gas works at the foot of Castle street a new gas holder and a new and modern apparatus for the manufacture of gas, which will give a holding capacity of 300,000 cubic feet and a producing capacity of three times that which the present plant is capable of.

The new equipment will give the company a holder capacity five times greater than that which it had eight years ago and a producing capacity ten times greater than its plant could turn out eight years ago, putting it in position to serve a much greater demand than it can have at present. The equipment is of the most modern and will add much to the quality of the company's service.

Both the holder and the new apparatus will be finished within two weeks and will put in active operation at once. The improvements and additions involve a total outlay of something over $30,000.

The new holder is being built by Bartlett, Hayward & Co., of Baltimore, and about 30 men are engaged in the construction work. The new gas manufacturing apparatus is being installed by the United Gas Improvement Company, of Philadelphia, the largest concern of its kind in the world. About 30 men are engaged in this work also and the power company has about 40 men making connections, etc., giving a total force of over 100 men at work on the new improvements. Mr. Arthur E. Knapp is in charge of United Gas Improvement Company's work and Mr. W. C. Elton has charge of the constructing of the new holder.

A large oil tank, with a capacity of 50,000 gallons, which will be used in connection with the new process of making gas, has already been installed.

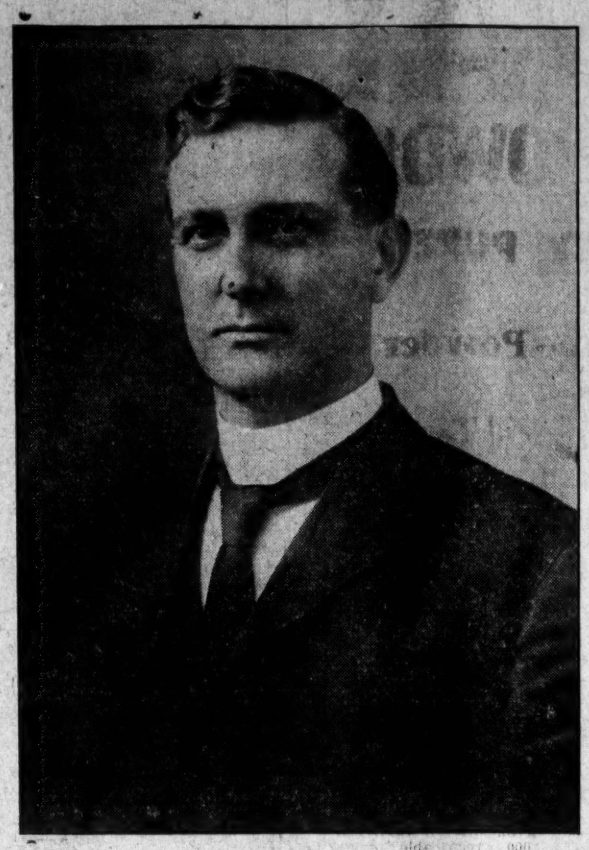
WILLIAM WALTON KITCHIN
Governor of North Carolina.



Returning from Lumberton, N. C., where on yesterday he was the principal speaker at a great Farmers' Union and Educational Rally, Governor William Walton Kitchin reached Wilmington this morning shortly after 1 o'clock on the belated Seaboard Air Line train.

The Governor spent but a few hours here and owing to the lateness of his arrival did not meet any of his number of warm personal friends in this city; indeed, few of them kne wof his coming. The Governor after catching a few hours of sleep, left on this morning's train at 5:45 o'clock for Bolton, N. C., wher ehe will speak today, probably returning late tonight and spending a short while in the city tomorrow morning, on his return to Raleigh.

GRIDIRON CONTEST TODAY

Wilmington High School and Donaldson Military School Football Teams Meet at League Park for Struggle

For the second time this season the strong Wilmington High School football eleven will meet their old time rivals, the Donaldson Military School boys, in a struggle for supremacy at League Park this afternoon, beginning at 3:30 o'clock. The first contest between the teams played at Fayetteville a few weeks ago resulted in a victory for the Wilmington boys by the close score of 8 to 6.

The Donaldson eleven will put forth a mighty effort this afternoon to "come back" at the local team and, realizing this, the Wilmington boys have made preparations to flay their opponents. The three weeks since the first contest with Donaldson has been spent by the local boys in the hardest practice and the team is in the best of condition. Coaches Shaw and Ruffin have been putting the team through some hard work and are confident that the local team will take the honors this afternoon.

"Bob" Burnett, captain, will run the team from fullback; Williams, Houston or Hashagen will play half; Hall to be at quarter; the ends will be picked from Monroe, Stone, Smith and Silverman; Meir and C. Burnett will play the tackles; Friar and Herring, and Shaw or Penny will hold anything hurled at the center of the line, backed by Wells at center. Donaldson is coming with full force. Townsend, Jones, Stone and Wannamaker will play the backfield; Cook and McNeill ends; Currie and Huske tackles; Cloud and Glover guards and Venable center.

Wilmington has not been defeated this season and Donaldson has only been defeated by Wilmington, so the honors of the teams are about even, which fact will add to the interest in the contest this afternoon. The Rooting Club of the Wilmington High School, will be on hand with some systematic rooting led by Mr. Laurens Wright and Miss Edith Clark, to help the local team to win. The officials of the game will be Russell (Lafayette), referee; Ruffin (N. C.), umpire; Lynch, head linesman. The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock and the admission will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children.

BALDWIN FOUND NOT GUILTY

Castle Haynes Man Acquitted by Jury on Charge of Selling Whiskey—Number of Other Cases Were Tried

G. W. Baldwin, of Castle Haynes, was yesterday acquitted by a jury of 12 New Hanover citizens on a charge of selling whiskey in violation of the State prohibition law.

This was the second time the case had been tried in the Recorder's court, the first, some weeks ago, resulting in a mistrial. The jury yesterday returned its verdict to Clerk Fred T Skipper, of the Recorder's court, at 4:10 o'clock in the afternoon, after having been out with the case since morning. The defendant was represented by Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy and L. Clayton Grant, Esq., while County Attorney Marsden Bellamy looked after the interests of the State. R. F. Brookws, Esq., who was employed to assist the prosecution at the former trial, withdrew and did not participate in the case yesterday.

W. C. Hardison, a white man, was the State's chief witness. He took the stand and testified that during October, 19 0, he gave the defendant the sum of 25 cents and asked for a half pint of whiskey. In return he said he received a half pint flash labelled whiskey, the contents of which looked like whiskey and certainly tasted like all the whiskey he had ever drunk. However, he could not on cross-examination testify as to whether it was rye or corn whiskey, gin or some other spirtuous liquor.

The prosecution also introduced a number of witnesses who swore to Mr. Hardison's good character, and in addition a United States retail license covering the period during which it was alleged the sale was made, was introduced.

Baldwin took the stand for himself and denied that he had sold Hardison any whiskey, or that he had ever sold any one any whiskey. He testified that he had sold near-beer and that while engaged in that business he had procured the government license. A number of witnesses testified to his good character, and following the argument of counsel the case went to the jury.

The gentlemen composing the jury were B. E. Pridgen, W. N. Smithson, H. M. Register, E. P. H. Strunck, Chas. F. Bell, W. R. Stewart, J. E. Armstrong, M. J. Jackson, E. S. Knight, M. Rosemann, H. W. Konig and B. F. Brittain.

Eupgene Bryant, a negro, was tried on a charge of the larceny of a cow hide from Mr. C. D. Gilbert and was found guilty. He was sentenced to six months on the county roads.

Chas. Davis, colored, was found guilty of non-support of his children. Judgment was suspended against him on payment of costs and condition that he provide $3.50 each week for the support of his children, judgment to be prayed if he failed to do so.

E. A. Chadwick, a white man, was in court on a charge of being drunk and down. He had been recognized to appear and had not shown up on the previous day, when his bond was forfeited. However, there appeared to be a misunderstanding as to the time when he was to appear and the forfeiture was stricken out. Judgment was suspended on payment of costs.

A nol pros was taken in a case charging Murphy Mosley, Emmanuel Southerland, David Moore, John Henry Lucas and Bertram LeVane, small colored boys, with vagrancy. Another case, charging James McCleese and Alex. McRea, colored, with larceny, was also nol prosed.

COMPANY C ENJOYS BANQUET

Unusually Pleasant Affair at Boys' Brigade Armory Last Evening.—Excellent Programme and Delightful Menu.

The first annual banquet of Company C., Boys' Brigade, last night proved an exceptionally pleasant affair indeed to the 30 guests who were present to enjoy the good things prepared by Mr. J. U. King and his committee and each and every boy pronounced it one of the most thoroughly enjoyable occasions in which he had ever participated.

The room and table were beautifully decorated in Brigade colors, old gold and purple, the programme was printed upon old gold paper in puple ink and each guest was furnished with a beautiful buttonhole bouquette of violets and chrysanthemums.

The following menu was served by a committee of ladies composed of Mrs. Chas. Dushan, Mrs. J. U. King Misses Genevieve Dushan, Rita Morse, Eleanor Bessellieu, Anne Leah Mercer and Lizzie Brinkley:

Olives Pickles,
Salted Almonds
Potato Salad
Roast Turkey—Cranberry Sauce,
Cold Sliced Ham Sandwiches
Ice Cream Cake
Chocolate Coffee
Mints.

Following the banquet the following programme was presented:

Song—"Stand Up for Jesus."

"Higher Ideals"—Mr. J. B. Huntington.

Song—"America."

"Boys of Today."—Rev. J. C. Wooten.

Song—"Onward Christian Soldiers."

Mr. J. B. Huntington was especially timely in his remarks, holding up to the boys ideals while high indeed, were yet practical and possible and often reached by those whose earnestness is sufficient to cause an honest effort.

Rev. J. C. Wooten, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, followed with a short, happy talk which was listened to by the boys with deep interest and pleasure.

A brief synopsis of the year's work and the development of the company was then presented by Mr. Chas. Dushan, secretary of the Brigade, and this showed a remarkable condition. When this company was organized the boys who composed it were not professed Christians, but, since that time almost every boy has united with the church and is living an upright Christian life, clean, manly and honorable. They are a credit to themselves and the city. The company now numbers 25, fully equipped with khaki uniforms, Springfield rifles and all accessories of an up-to-date military company. In addition to this they have gymnasium classes three times each week, a Bible class, social and many other features considered pleasant and helpful.

At the close of the gathering the boys retired to their homes feeling that they had enjoyed the time of their lives, as no doubt they had.

The work being done for these youngsters is only one of the several features of the work of the Boys' Brigade, credit for the existence of which is due to Col. Walker Taylor and those friends who so liberally contributed of their means to its support.

Revival at Castle Haynes

Last night brought to a close the series of revival services that have been in progress at Castle Haynes for the past week, conducted by the Yoke Fellows of the Y. M. C. A. The meetings were a great success from every standpoint and the results very gratifying. The workers were taken out each night in automobiles furnished by friends of the work in the city, thus adding greatly to the success of the meetings. Beginning Sunday night and continuing through the week meetings will be held at the Wrightsboro Union Sunday school. The ministers of the city will speak at these meetings.

Miss Louise Vollers rendered a charming vocal solo, Miss Louise Niestle gave a very pleasing reading and Miss Christine Schulken contributed a beautiful piano solo. The meeting was presided over by Mr. Louis Hanson and the lesson was from the Book of Acts, which the League is studying at present. It was decided to hold the social meeting of the League on Nov. 24th.

LITERARY SOCIETY WAS ENTERTAINED LAST NIGHT

The Literary Society recently organized at the Y. M. C. A. was delightfully entertained last night from 8:15 to 10 P. M. by Dr. Ernest Bulluck, vice president of the organization, at his home, No. 309 North Fourth street, and the affair was attended by nearly all the members, who, before leaving, expressed by a rising vote of thanks, their pleasure of the unbounded hospitality of the host. A dainty one-course supper was served by Mrs. D. W. Bulluck and Miss Maud Bulluck, mother and sister of the host, following which the young men composing the organization repaired to Dr. D. W. Bulluck's study, where an informal session was held. Members of the society were pleased to have a most interesting and instructive talk by Dr. D. W. Bulluck. Interest in the society, which was organized only about two weeks ago, is growing and with it the membership, which has more than doubled since the first meeting.

FAREWELL RECEPTION TO MRS. C. F. WHITLOCK.

On the eve of her departure for her new home at Joplin, Mo., where her husband has recently accepted the pastorate of a Baptist church and has already entered upon his new duties, Mrs. C. F. Whitlock was delightfully entertained last night at the home of Mrs. W. L. Vann, No. 602 North Fourth street, by the Philathea Class and Ladies' Aid Society of Brooklyn Baptist Church. Nearly all the members of the class and the society were present and all had a most pleasant time, though the joy of the occasion was tempered somewhat by the thought that ere another Friday shall have rolled around the guest of honor will be on her way to her home in the West, which, by the way, is really not a new home to her, for she is a native Missourian, being from West Plains.

The pleasure of the event was added to by the rendition of a piano solo by Miss Jessie Lupo; two vocal solos by Mrs. P. L. Smith, and a reading by Mrs. Frank Garrison, after which the party repaired to the dining room, where refreshments were served. Returning again to the parlor a pleasing incident took place, when Mrs. Whitlock was presented with a handsome brooch, set with pearls, a gift from the Philathea Class, which she served as teacher for some time. The speech of presentation was made by Mrs. J. A. Boswell, who expressed, in behalf of the class, their deep appreciation of Mrs. Whitlock's earnest and faithful work as teacher and of the regret felt by them that she is to sever her connection with the class. The gift was gracefully accepted by Mrs. Whitlock.

Accompanied by several of her children, Mrs. Whitlock will leave Wednesday for Joplin, where she will join Rev. Mr. Whitlock, who was formerly pastor of Brooklyn Baptist Church, this city.

PRETTY HALLOWE'EN PARTY WAS ENJOYED.

On Hallowe'en night the faculty of the Wilmington High School was entertained by the gentlemen members of the faculty in a most appropriate way at the home of the principal, Mr. Heman Shaw. All of the guests, as well as those receiving them, were dressed as ghosts, and the first feature of the night's entertainment consisted in guessing "who was who". After the identities could no longer be kept a secret the ghosts were allowed to unmask, and throw aside the sheets in which they had been draped.

The second feature of the evening's programme was the telling of fortunes. This was done by a young Gipsy girl, who gave to each guest what seemed to be a blank sheet of paper. When the paper, however, was held over a burning candle, the fortune became visible. When this was over, a veiled figure, which had attracted much attention, as it stood in a prominent place, was revealed, and proved to be a real skeleton, with which each guest solemnly shook hands. An immense pan of water, in which floated some apples, was brought in, and the time-honored bobbing for apples took place.

Refreshments, in the shape of ice cream and cake, were served in the sitting room. After these had been eaten, came the most enjoyable part of the evening's entertainment. Led by one of the hosts, the entire crowd followed him to the garret of the house, where a witch sat over a boiling cauldron. All seated themselves in a circles around the cauldron, from which the witch served the most delicious hot chocolate, and each person was called on for a ghost story. While the ghost stories were being told, Mrs. Shaw played "Tam 'O Shanter" on the piano in the living room below, and the wierd music added greatly to the fearfulness of the occasion.

After the last ghost story had been told the guests left for their respective homes.

Those who formed the receiving party were Mrs. W. M. Shaw, Miss Ruth Shaw, the Misses Plowden, Miss Luciana Poisson, Miss Atha Hicks, Mr. Heman Shaw, Mr. Jack Oates, Mr. Colin Ruffin and Mr. Charles Venable. The others who were present during the evening were Misses Lelia Jackson, Sarah Peales, Nancy Martin, Agnes Carr, Fredericka Jenkins, Ethel Wood, Mattie Cronck and Laura Weill.

ALLEGED MUTINEERS HELD.

Given Preliminary Hearing Yesterday Morning—Committed to Jail.

Yesterday morning before United States Commissioner Geo. Harriss, three negro seamen, Chas. Ellis, William Douglass and John Rigan, late of the crew of the schooner Victor C. Records, were given preliminary hearing on a charge of mutiny on the high seas and probable cause being found they were committed to jail in default of $500 bond each to await trial at the next term of United States District Court, which convenes here in January.

Three witnesses testified at the hearing yesterday, Capt. Joseph Louis, Mate John Jacobs and James Francis, the cook on the Records. Their testimony was practically the same, being to the effect that while on a voyage from Charleston to New York, laden with lumber, the Victor C. Records encountered a severe storm off the North Carolina coast and that the crew became mutinous and refused to carry out the orders of the captain, thereby endangering the safety of the vessel and the lives of all on board. As a result of the mutiny the schooner was badly damaged; sprang a severe leak and it is said that all that kept her from going to the bottom was the fact that she was loaded with lumber and could not sink. The Records was picked up by the United States revenue cutter Seminole and towed into port.

The accused men are all natives of the West Indies, two of them coming from Trinidad, Port au Spain, and the third from St. Kitts Island. They are all British subjects and it is very probable that that government will appoint counsel to represent them when their trial comes off here. The case is easily the most important one in marine circles at this port for years and its outcome will be awaited with interest.

They examined in detail the plans for the enlargement of the local branch, which will be carried out as improvements to the building now in progress are completed. New furniture will be installed and there will be other improvements.

Uneeda Biscuit never disappoint!

You have never heard anyone say—"The Uneeda Biscuit in that last package were not as good as usual."

You have never said it yourself.

It is quite another thing to make them so that they are not only always better than all other soda crackers, but always of unvarying goodness.

The name "Uneeda"—stamped on every one of them—means that if a million packages of Uneeda Biscuit were placed before you, you could choose any one of them, confident that every soda cracker in that package would be as good as the best Uneeda Biscuit ever baked.

THE COTTON MARKET STEADY

Sharp Advance During the Day's Early Trading—The South A Heavy Seller—No Sales Received Yesterday

New York, Nov. 10.—A continuation of yesterday's buying movement caused a further sharp advance during today's early trading in the cotton market but offerings were very heavy and prices later re-acted with the close net unchanged to 3 points higher.

The market opened steady at an advance of 6 to 11 points in response to better cables than looked for, renewed bull support and overnight covering orders. The South was a heavy seller here and it seemed as if many of yesterday's buyers for a turn were taking their profits around the initial figures. At any rate, selling was very heavy and right after the call prices broke 6 to 7 points. Offerings were so well taken on this setback, however, that some of the early sellers became uneasy, particularly as advices from the South indicated that the rains were interferring with the movement and with ginning thus creating expectations of a less bearish census report for the period ending November 14th and for the period reported on last Wednesday. Leading bull brokers also continued to give support and as covering became more general, prices again firmed up and at one time late in the forenoon active months were about 11 to 13 points above the closing figures of yesterday. This represented a recovery of about 30 points from recent low records and following a crop estimate of 15,900,000 bales by a prominent local firm, prices turned easier under realizing continued Southern selling and rather more aggressive offerings from local bears. It seemed, too, that the figures on spinner's figures for the week making them smaller than for the corresponding week last year, encouraged the selling movement and the more active positions broke a point or two under yesterday's close. Subsequent fluctuations were rather nervous and irregular with the market less active. The figures proved a shade under expectations but the week-end statement reflected a further big increase in the world's visible supply of American, and the Southern selling had in early advance doubtless discouraged traders on the long side although there was nothing in the news to indicate any material change in the attitude of Southern spot holders. Liverpool reported heavy American buying and it is estimated that between 200,000 and 300,000 bales of short contracts have been covered in the local market since the opening yesterday morning.

Receipts 1,541 bales today, against 94,009 last week and 91,031 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 10,543 bales against 11,730 last year, and at Houston 14,842 bales against 12,928 last year.

Spot cotton closed dull; middling uplands 9.45; middling gulf 9.70; no sales.

Futures closed steady.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF COTTON

Some Think It Too Early to Conclude That Crop is 15,000,000 Bales. Insist That Early Marketing Misled Dealers.

New York, Nov. 10.—Although prices have almost shown weakness they have latterly rallied. When the market nears nine cents it strikes a spinning demand from home and foreign houses, which causes an immediate recoil. The opinion is gaining ground that even a crop of 15,000,000 bales has been pretty nearly discounted in the enormous decline which has taken place since it began to be suspected that the present yield would transcend anything before known. The census bureau's figures putting the total quantity ginned up to November 1st at nearly 10,000,000 bales, are variously interpreted, but some believe it is even now too early to jump to the conclusion that the crop is 15,000,000 bales or more. They insist that the unusually early maturity picking and marketing of the crop have misled the cotton dealers of the world as to real size of the American crop. These critics think the yield may easily turn out to be no more than 14,000,000 bales, and in fact, a Chicago house the other day estimated it at only 13,000,000 bales. December at times has been suggestively strong. Meantime, the weather at the South has been rainy and unsettled, interfering more or less with the movement of the crop. The holding back movement seems, if anything, to be gaining momentum rather than dying out. Large spot interests have at times been buying January. Wall Street houses were buying rather more freely on Thursday and many of the shorts in the distant months have been covering. Manchester has been firm with a better demand and the spot sales in Liverpool have later been 10,000 bales a day. Yet there can be no question that there is still a strong undercurrent of bearish sentiment. It is based on the idea that the crop is 15,000,000 to 15,500,000 bales—one Southern estimate the other day put it as high as 16,000,000 bales—and that such a crop can only be absorbed or financed at a further decline in prices. Liverpool telegraphs that large shipments destined for China have been stopped. Though sales of print cloths at Fall River have latterly increased and some other branches of the cotton goods business have also shown improvement the general condition of textile industry in this country still leaves much to be desired. The South of late has sold December and so have spot houses against cotton coming here. The government will issue an estimate of the crop on December 11th, and believers in lower prices profess to be confident that it will be in substantial accord with their ideas as to the size of the yield. Yet the resistance to pressure which the market has latterly shown, together with talk of the persistent holding back of cotton encourages some who are disposed to begin buying in a cautious way for a rise while there is undoubtedly more or less nervousness among the shorts not a few of whom have latterly been covering, taking indeed, some 150,000 to 200,000 bales within two days, partly owing to wet weather and partly, it is said, because of the prodding by Eugene Scales and the Pell party in Wall Street, who are supposed to exploit the short interest whenever it becomes large enough to make it worth while.

Friday saw a sudden advance, then a decline on Norden & Company's crop estimate of 15,900,000 bales.

STRENGTH IN STOCK MARKET

Fluctuations Were Uncertain and Feverish at Times---Late in the Day Buying Expanded Rapidly—Prices Shot Upward

New York, Nov. 10.—Fluctuations of stocks were uncertain and at times feverish today, but the market again exhibited decided strength. At the opening the railroad stocks showed substantial gains. The market soon fell back and some issues, including Canadian Pacific, Erie, Missouri, Pacific and Wabash, preferred, lost 1 to 3 points. Heavy realizing sales kept the market in check. Prices rose and fell within comparatively narrow limits until late in the day when buying expanded rapidly.

Prices shot upward and at the close extensive gains were well distributed through the list of more active stocks, in some cases, running up to five points.

The railroad stocks, especially those of the Western group were the leaders of the market. Trading in these stocks was stimulated by the action of the new commerce court in staying the decree of the Inter-State Commerce Commission for a reduction of inter-mountain freight rates. During the flurry of the last hour, the most conspicuous part was taken by Reading and Lehigh Valley, which were bought so eagerly that various reports of extra dividends were circulated. Lehigh Valley rose to 1.79 1-2, an advance of 5 5-8 points and Reading gained 4 3-8. The advance of Reading was attributed in part to a gain of 27 points in Central Railroad of New Jersey, in which it has a large interest.

The copper shares were especially strong with an advance of 2 5-8 in Amalgamated Copper. The American Tobacco issues were much quieter today and fluctuations were smaller.

United States Steel pursued an irregular course. At one time a point below yesterday's close, it rose later in the day to 1 1-2 points above.

A small cash loss by the banks for the week was indicated by known movements of money, there having been a gain from the interior and a loss of sub-treasury operations. Recent indications of better business conditions were strengthened by the figures for the week's bank clearings throughout the country which made the most favorable showing for a considerable period. The increase over the corresponding week of last year amounts to nearly nine per cent. Bonds were irregular. Total sales par value $4,076,000.

United States bonds unchanged on call. Total sales for the day were 1,141,300 shares.

which they were permitted access through the courtesy of the railway officials. Fires sprang up everywhere and a large section of the native city was burned. Tonight the Manchu, driven to bay, cornered and glutted with blood, have despoiled the goods of 200,000 inhabitants, watching the flaming city from the height of Purple Hill and awaits tomorrow.

Everything Quiet at Peking.

Peking, November 10.—Again today all was quiet within the capital and at Tien Tsin, and there was no sign of the revolutionary upheaval that has been expected for several days.

In Peking those who surround the throne are actively engaged in efforts to end the rebellion, and tonight there seems some foundation for the government's hope that it will be able to regain the allegiance of General Chang Shao Tsen.

Chang is commander of the division at Lanchau, but at present is detached from it on "sick leave." He controls the situation in North China and the government has been using every endeavor to gain his unqualified support. He desires Chang to return to Peking and confer with Yuan Shi Kai and Hsi Liang, the ex-viceroy of Manchuria. That Chang possibly may do so is indicated in advices received today from Lanchau. A correspondent interviewed Chang and General Pan, the latter temporarily in command of the Twentieth Division during Chang's "illness." Both generals, it is said, agreed that they would protect the emperor, if he is still reigning, or if he has abdicated, that they would side with the peace party and the constitution.

Regardless of race, they stated, if the Manchus should massacre the Chinese, or vice versa, they would fight against the offending parties.

An official announcement tonight says the court, meaning the Dowager Emperor and Empress, will move from the winter palace to the inner city November 20, and orders all officials on duty to attire themselves in winter raiment.

An imperial edict again pathetically begs the Manchus and Chinese to sink their differences and live in brotherly affection.

The Chinese newspapers say General Li Yuen Heng, leader of the revolutionists, has made a counter proposition to Yuan Shi Kai to join the rebels and assume temporarily the presidency of the republic, pending the assembling of a parliament.

FEDERATION OF LABOR

To Confer on Plan of Co-operation—Officers Elected

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 10.—Politics threatened the peace of the labels department of the American Federation of Labor at today's session when charges were made that John B. Lennon, of Massachusetts, president of the department and treasurer of the American Federation, had taken an unduly active part in the recent prohibition election in that State. Mr. Lennon surrendered the chair temporarily and immediately denied the report. No action was taken.

A resolution was adopted providing for a committee to confer with President Charles S. Barrett, of the National Farmers' Union, on a plan of co-operation between the farmers' union and trades crafts.

The following officers were elected: President, James B. Tobin, Boston; first vice president, John W. Hayes, Indianapolis; second vice president, Jacob Mischer, Indianapolis; third vice president, Owen Miller, St. Louis; fourth vice president, T. A. Richert, Chicago; secretary-treasurer, Thomas F. Tracey, Boston.

At the opening sesion today of the metal trades department a fight was started on "Taylor system of efficiency" in shop systems. President James O'Connell, of the department, in his annual address, urged that a resolution be drawn condemning the Taylor system and submitted to the executive council of the American Federation for ratification.

Secretary-Treasurer A. J. Burres, in his report urged that the scope of the federal eight-hour law in the construction of ships be broadened to have all parts of all ships built by those working under Federations rules.

PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY

Baltimore Grain Brokers Have Liabilities in Excess of $5,000

Baltimore, Nov. 10.—A petition in bankruptcy against Kirwan Brothers, grain brokers of this city, was filed in the United States District Court here late today. Subsequently the grand jury found presentments against Harry C. Hinds and William Marshal, respectively, treasurer and bookkeeper of the firm, in connection with the discovery of alleged fraudulent bills of lading among the firm's collateral with the First National Bank of Baltimore.

Liabilities in excess to $5,000 were given to petition and the firm in its answer admitted the claims and consented to the action. It was announced that the court would later pass an order of adjudication. The petitioners were the First National Bank and the grain firms of Gillanu, Fisher & Hammond, Snyder & Company. The firm of Kirwan Brothers has been in business since 1888 and is said to have close relations with the recently failed firm of Pitt Brothers & Company, whose senior member, Pembroke W. Pitt, is under presentment on charges of forging bills of lading. Walter Kirwan is president of the firm; Emery Kirwan is vice president and H. C. Hindes is treasurer and financial agent.

"I have nothing to conceal," said Walter Kirwan. The proceedings of the First National Bank came as a bolt out of a clear sky. Our bookkeeper and financial man, Mr. Hindes, is a member of the firm, has not been in good health for a long while and consequently our books have not been posted for four months at least. I know that our assets will fall considerably short of our liabilities, as we have not been doing a profitable business of late."

Hindes and Marshall were arrested tonight. Questioned by Captain of Detectives McGovern, Hindes said:

"I am to blame primarily for this fix and I am sorry that they got Marshall in it. Of course, he made out the bogus bills and did it at my instigation. We had to have the money and that was all there was to it."

When asked as to the total amount of bad paper Hindes said it was $70,000.

Marshall admitted to Captain McGovern that he had been making out bogus bills of lading at the instigation of Hindes for several years.

TREASURER'S ANNUAL REPORT

$19,000,000 Decrease in Customs Receipts for Fiscal Year, 1911

Washington, Nov. 10.—The discussion of tariff schedules in Congress and probable action in the near future reducing duties was responsible for the $19,000,000 decrease in customs receipts for the fiscal year, 1911, according to the annual report of Lee McClung, treasurer of the United States, made public today. On account of increases from other scources McClung points out, however, the total receipts reached the new record of nearly $701,375,000.

Calling attention to the fact that the fiscal year closed with about $77,000,000 as a working balance in the vaults of the treasury—approximately the same amount which is there today—Mr. McClung says:

"As there is no emergency calling for an increase of government deposits in banks, the treasury may, by keeping the cash in its own vaults in time of monetary ease, prevent the use of the funds for the promotion of speculative expansion. If, however, financial conditions should become strained, the secretary of the treasury is in position to give prompt and effective relief to the business situation."

To meet the demand for small denominations of currency, the treasurer recommends that five dollar gold certificates be issued, removing the restrictions which confine the issue to ten dollars and above and that the provision of law limiting the number of five dollar bank notes be repealed or modified. Mr. McClung believes Congress should authorize the issuance of $5,000 gold certificates payable to order, as there is a demand for that denomination in preference to the $10,000 certificates now prescribed by law.

The five per cent. fund deposited in the treasury by National banks to permit the prompt redemption of their circulating notes is inadequate, says Mr. McClung.

"Almost throughout the entire fiscal year," he added, "the treasury has had to advance money for the redemption of bank notes on the security of the notes themselves. As the notes are not obligations of the treasury, the banks should be required to deposit a greater amount to provide for current redemption."

CAROLINA VS. CAROLINA

Greek Meets Greek on Football Gridiron This Afternoon

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 10.—The football team of the University of South Carolina left this afternoon for Chapel Hill, N. C., where they meet the University of North Carolina tomorrow. The Tar Heels are a strong bunch this year, and will give the game cocks a great fight.

Last year the score was 26 to 5 in favor of the North Carolina team. The game cock warriors are thirsting for revenge and will make their more Northern contemporaries go some for the palm.

The fact that Passailaigue and Von Kolnitz will be seen in this game makes the garnet and black eleven a much stronger machine than the team that was defeated by Clemson.

The following men are on the trip: Watson, Williams, Gue, Sligh, Passailiague, Von Kolnitz, Hill, Whitner, Kollock, Perkins, Oglesby, Langston, Knight, Porter, Graydon and Girardeau. Prof. Yates Snowden accompanied the team.

MISTRIAL IN CHILDERS' CASE

Jury Unable to Reach Verdict, Standing Eight to Four

Leesburg, Ga., Nov. 10.—A mistrial resulted in the case of Mort S. Childers, charged with killing his wife by administering poison, when the jury reported late this afternoon that they were unable to reach a verdict.

By order of the court, Robert Kennedy, a former sweetheart of the dead woman and also charged with her murder, was released after being held in jail two months.

It is reported unofficially that the Childers jury stood eight to four for conviction.

ROCKY POINT R. F. D.

Farmers Housing Crops — Delaware Capitalists Visiting the Point

Rocky Point, N. C., Nov. 10.—The farmers continue to be busy housing crops. Mr. W. S. Rochelle, of Harrison Creek, has had a force for ten days digging sweet potatoes and the end is not yet in sight. He has rows of them in banks higher than the highest Confederate breastworks and has the hogs to feed them to after they harvest his peanut and shufa crops. The prices of pork are highest for years—11c. by the hog; retails for 14c. and 15c. per lb.

"Cappen" Henry Shaw, of Lillington Hall, states that his Norton yam crop was phenomenally large—he actually had to rent land from a neighbor to bank them on—there not being enough space where the crop grew.

The high prices paid for all kinds of furs has caused the woods to be filled with steel traps, baited with fish or fresh meat and he states that he has an old sow (the one Commodore Clark's squadron killed for a bear), that would come home at night with three steel traps clinging to her feet, having learned to unloose them from the "stob."

Mr. O. P. Middleton, of Warsaw, was down this week. He tells of an immense sypress tree that was cut in "Goshen Swamp," Duplin county, so large that it took three flat cars to carry it out to the mill, four cuts in all, 10 feet to the cut and the blossom, or top cut, was eight feet in diameter. The largest your scribe ever saw was four feet in diameter. Now, it takes fine lands to produce such enormous growths. There is no doubt but that these were old trees when Cornwallis and his army crossed Goshed Swamp, near Faison and foraged in Duplin where they seized all the water mills and would grind only wheat, emptied feather beds and poured on molasses. These matters were related to me by an aged lady who saw these events occur.

Rocky Point now has four Delaware capitalists, visitors, land prospectors, real farmers that are interested in the growth and shipment of early sweet potatoes. They are Messrs. C. S. Warren, of Felton; J. B. Mileham, L. G. Masten and J. M. Neal, of Harrington, Del. They seem to be immensely pleased with the outlook and growth of the different varieties and speak of the "Simmons" yam as a hustler.

The wods are full of sows and pigs. It matters little if cotton has touched the 8c. notch. Pender will not suffer much since with varied farming, hog and hominy will more than abound.

GOV. BALDWIN UPHELD.

Attorney General Kills Bounty Law Passed Over Governor's Veto.

The civil war veterans' bounty act, passed by the last General Assembly over Gov. Baldwin's veto, has been declared unconstitutional in an opinion filed by Attorney General John H. Light, says a Hartford special. The act granted a pension of $30 a year to veterans of the war or their widows or widowed mothers, and provided that the law relating to the exemption of property of veterans to the amount of $1,000 should not apply to them.

The opinion was asked for by the Governor because he had doubts as to whether the bounty provided under the act conformed to the constitution of the United States, and it was desired to fix definitely the legal status of the act before any expenses were incurred under it by the controller's office. In his opinion, the attorney general refers to the aid sought to be given as in the nature of "a pure gratuity." He also says:

"The only limitation is that of residence. Hence it is theoretically possible for all the old soldiers in the country who served in the civil war and were honorably discharged and the widows or widowed mothers of such soldiers to become residents of this State and each claim $30 a year as State aid."

BANK CASHIER DISAPPEARS.

Authorities Fear Angry Depositors Will Lynch Him if Located.

Bentonville, Ark., Nov. 10.—Seven hundred persons, practically the entire population of Gentry, 15 miles southeast of here, tonight are looking for C. A. Catron, cashier of the Bank of Gentry, which failed yesterday with liabilities of $160,000, and assets estimated at $125,000. The authorities fear the angry depositors will lynch the cashier if they locate him and with that idea in mind have hidden him in the village.

Yesterday when the bank closed an armed body of men who already had secured a rope declared their intention of lynching Catron. They were persuaded by local officers, however, to take a more peaceful course and the life of the cashier was saved.

Today excitement was even more tense and finally to protect him officers took Catron in charge and it is now believed he is locked in the bank building. It is believed he is safe there at least until officers can get there from here. A deputy with a warrant for Catron's arrest left here today.

According to depositors, the bank failed because securities on a $50,000 loan could not be realized on.

Gentry has a population of 700 and is isolated as far as quick communication is concerned.

TO DISTRIBUTE $1,500,000.

Board of Home Missions and Church Extenison of M. E. Church.

Denver, Col., November 10. — To distribute $1,500,000 where it will be most effective is a bit of work confronting the board of home missions and church extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which met here today. Discussion of industrial conditions in the United States will consume part of the six days meeting.

Among the speakers today were Rev. Dr. Herben, editor of the Epworth Herald; Rev. Dr. J. M. Buckley, editor of the New York Christian Advocate; Rev. W. V. Kelly, editor of the Methodist Review, and H. J. Carroll, director of the decent church census taken by the United States government.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 10.—Vincent Schiller, three years old, got hold of some matches at his home, 62 Stuart street, this morning, set himself afire and died within two hours. Miss Dean, the boy's aunt, fainted while trying to save his life and a mail carrier, passing the house at the time, ran to the child's assistance, but reached him too late to save his life.

MYSTERY OVER KILLED.

Chief of Police of Pennsylvania Town Shot Himself to Death.

Washington, Pa., Nov. 10.—Mystery surrounds the death early today by shooting of William J. Dulaney, chief of police of Washington, and captain of Company H., 10th Infantry N. G. P., while calling on Miss Ada Lennox. The young woman and her mother, Mrs. Rose Lennox, have been committed to jail pending an inquest by the coroner to be held next Tuesday. According to Miss Lennox, Dullaney shot himself through the head with a 44-calibre revolver while talking with her at the Lennox residence, about 2 o'clock this morning. The dead man's home is but a few doors away. His wife and five children were at home and asleep when the shooting occurred.

There were no powder marks or burns on the body. After the shooting, Mrs. Lennox, the girl's mother, took the revolver into another room. Later she surrendered it. Mrs. Lennox told the authorities, it is understood, that she had hidden the revolver, fearing that her daughter might shoot herself.
